City Council Takes Control Of K. C. Police

Otto P. Higgins Quits As Department Head; Zachman Is Acting City Manager

KANSAS CITY, April 15—(AP)—An aroused City council took control of Kansas City's police department today while citizens looked to four fronts for another week of developments some believed might match this week's upheavals.

Otto P. Higgins relinquished the police directorship as the council formally accepted the resignation of City Manager H. F. McElroy and named Eugene C. Zachman, young secretary of Mayor Bryce B. Smith, to act temporarily in McElroy's place.

Zachman's first official act, dictated by the mayor and council, was to name Police Lieut. William Boyle, an attorney, acting police director.

Federal, state, city and county governments all will be watched closely next week for possible additions to the series of developments which have followed rapidly the indictment of Tom Pendergast, Democratic political boss, on federal income tax evasion charges.

Grand Jury Continues

The grand jury which indicted Pendergast, will resume its sessions Monday. On its agenda are a study of the midwestern narcotics ring, which federal aids said was broken with seven arrests here and six elsewhere last Wednesday; the questioning of persons who have had business dealings with Pendergast, and resumption of a probe into income from gambling in Kansas City.

Also scheduled Monday are the trials of Presiding Judge David E. Long of the county court and J. W. Hostetter, a former court member. They were indicted by a Jackson county grand jury on charges of misappropriating funds administered by the court.

Speculation at the city hall will center on the possible resignation as water superintendent of R. Emmet O'Malley, indicted with Pendergast on an income tax evasion count. Other city administration charges were reported under consideration as Mayor Smith prepared to spend Sunday in conference with the acting city manager, who declared himself "under

Higgins Exits As A Sad Man

KANSAS CITY, April 15—(AP)—Otto P. Higgins left the Police Directorship he held five years a sad man.

Tears streamed down the ex-world war correspondent's cheeks as he packed his personal belongings in two cardboard boxes.

His eyes were red and swollen as officers and clerks assigned to police headquarters interrupted his packing to offer sympathies.

"I've tried for five years to build up the best police department in the country," he said as he packed. "I hate to go out this way. I want the department to carry on.

"I hope the people realize I have done all I could," he remarked.

W. H. Phillips Killed By Bolt Of Lightning

Beaman Farmer Is Struck As Giving Candy To Children

William Howard Phillips, 48 years old, farmer residing one mile north of Beaman was instantly killed about 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon when struck by lightning while sitting in the kitchen of his home distributing candy to his children. His nine year old son Harold Joe Phillips is in the Bothwell hospital receiving treatment for a severely burned foot received when the bolt "touched" him.

Mr. Phillips had returned to his home and sat by the kitchen stove, called his children to him to distribute the candy he had purchased at the store in Beaman. As Howard reached him, touched his knees, a bolt of lightning struck the flue followed it down a stove pipe which led from the stove, down through the stove and jumped to Mr. Phillips.

As it struck, Mr. Phillips' head fell backward as if he was looking at the ceiling, remained that way a few seconds and he then crumbled to the floor. The child was kicked from him, the left shoe being torn in shreds and the foot badly burned.

Shoe Ripped Off Child

Three other children had started towards him and Evelyn Phillips. 13, was "touched" by the bolt and the right shoe was ripped open, but she was not injured. Others in the house were not injured.

Mrs. Phillips was standing in a corner a short distance from her husband and was not injured. She rushed to his side but he appeared to have already died.

She took her family to a neighbor's home and called Dr. J. E. Mitchell who went there. After an examination he said Mr. Phillips had died almost instantly. He then brought the little boy to the hospital where "shots" were given him of anti-tetanus serum.

The flue was demolished, the upper part of the home badly damaged. Weather boarding on the side of the house was torn loose as were boards around a window, which was not broken from the jolt. The roof of the dwelling was also badly damaged.

Mr. Phillips was born February 20, 1891 at Beaman. He has spent most of his life in Pettis county with the exception of 21 months which were spent serving his country in the United States army during the World War. Nineteen months of his army service was overseas.

For a number of years he was employed at the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad shops in Sedalia.

Mr. Phillips is survived by his widow, Mrs. Dorsey Phillips, one step-daughter, Evelyn Phillips, one step-son, Howard Joe Phillips, two daughters, Wanda Jo Phillips, and Billie Phillips, and his father, John Phillips of the home. Also surviving are one brother, Noah Phillips; a half brother, Don Phillips, and a half sister, Mrs. Adeline Terrell all of Sedalia.

The body is at the Ewing Funeral Home. No funeral arrangements have been made.

Retired Banker At Keytesville Dies

KEYTESVILLE, Mo., April 15—(AP)—M. W. Anderson, 85, retired banker, died today. Until his retirement in November, 1936, Anderson had been cashier of the Bank of Keytesville for 60 years.

He was a son-in-law of the late Senator Andrew Mackay.

He is survived by three daughters.

Picked Musicians Play In Concert

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 15—(AP)—Picked members of high school bands, orchestras and choruses performed tonight in bringing to a close the sixth biennial southwestern music educators conference with a concert.

The Southwestern choir was conducted by Miss Carol M. Pitts, Omaha, Nebr., the Southwestern orchestra by Constantin Bakaleinikoff, Hollywood, Calif., and the Southwestern band played under the direction of William Revelli of Ann Arbor, Michigan.

As a grand finale for the concert the band, orchestra and chorus joined in a presentation of "crown of freedom," by Gaines. The number was played from a specially arranged score by Albert D. Schmutz of the State Teachers' college, Emporia, Kas.

Several members of the Smith-Cotton high school band and orchestra played in the event.

Doug. Fairbanks, Jr., To Wed Again

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 15—(AP)—Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Mary Lee Epling, Hartford, New York and Palm Beach, Fla., socialite, will be married here within ten days, they announced today.

Mrs. Hartford, who recently obtained a Flordia divorce from G. Huntington Hartford, Palm Beach writer and sportsman, arrived today with her mother, Mrs. Giles Thomas Epling, of Bluefield, W. Va.

It will be Fairbanks' second marriage. His first wife, Joan Crawford, divorced her second husband, Franchot Tone, last Tuesday.

Old Palace In Greece Unearthed

ATHENS, April 15—(AP)—Carl Blegen, archeologist of the University of Cincinnati, unearthed at Navarino today, a Mycenian palace, 3,400 years old.

One hundred and fifty inscribed plates found in the ruins were believed to be royal archives.

The director of the Greek archeological service, who investigated the discovery, said Blegen probably had found Nestor's palace, built about 1500 B. C

Flood Waters In This Area Due Downpour

Highway 65 North Closed; Lowlands Are Inundated

A rainfall of nearly four inches, which began to fall about two o'clock Saturday morning, caused the streams, creeks and branches to rise, and at 9:15 o'clock Saturday night it was necessary to stop traffic on a section of highway 65, north of Sedalia. The road was closed from the north limits of the city of Sedalia, to the intersection of Pettis county farm to market road D and the highway 65 .

The water rose slowly in that section all day, and in the early afternoon was over the highway a short distance north of Bothwell lodge. Cars continued to go through, although several were almost swept off the east side of the road. Willis A. Watts, Jr., 1524 South Harrison avenue, attempted to drive through about 3 o'clock but the current was so strong it washed his motorcycle off the road into the water on the east side. Watts suffered no ill consequences other than a good ducking.

The lowlands in the Bothwell community were covered and the water rushed swiftly under the bridge at that place, almost reaching the bridge floor.

Sedalia Streets Floded

In Sedalia the rainfall had reached 3.88 inches at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and there was considerable rain later that night. Many streets were floded, and on West Broadway where the street is low several cars were stalled.

Haystacks Scattered

South of Sedalia the water was within two or three feet of the Flat Creek bridge on south highway 65. The lowland was covered, fences were washed away and hay stacks were scattered and washed down the creek.

While the streams east and west of Sedalia were swollen the highways were not in and danger at any time.

The water began receding late in the afternoon and at Flat Creek had gone down three or four feet Saturday night. It was considerably higher, it was said there, than in May, 1938, when there was a total of 2.23 inches rainfall. North of Sedalia it was said to have sur-

Italians Cool To Peace Move

ROME, April 15—(AP)—President Roosevelt's appeal to Benito Mussolini and Adolph Hitler for a ten year guarantee against aggression got a cool reception tonight in Italy.

Premier Mussolini conferred with Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering of Germany as Fascists exhibited scant sympathy for the president's move.

It was doubted that Mussolini would reject flatly Mr. Roosevelt's proposal, but informed Italians and foreign diplomats were virtually unanimous in believing it would not be accepted.

An oblique answer—once more setting forth claims of Italy and Germany to what they maintain is their rightful share of the world's wealth—was considered likely.

The official Italian News agency, Stefani, distributed the president's full text without comment.

Two Council Sessions Monday

There will be two sessions of the city council Monday night. The present council, assembling for its last meeting, will transact all unfinished business, adjourn sine die, and the new council will convene, organize, and proceed with any business that may come before its members.

There will be only a few matters for the retiring council. An application filed by Clarence Kester to sell 3.2 per cent beer at 506 West Sixteenth street, will be acted upon, and the ordinance regulating the new market square will be read for the third time and voted on.

There will be only one new member in the new council. That will be E. H. McLaughlin, first ward, who succeeds Frank Hugelman. Three other alderman, H. S. Barman, A. J. Knipp and Dr. F. M. Fulkerson succeed themselves.

The council remains entirely Democratic.

Board members may be announced Monday night, but it is very probable that appointees will not be announced until the following meeting two weeks from Monday night.

Young Sedalia Musicians Win

Junior Chorus And Others Victors At St. Louis

The Beulah Yancey Junior Music club chorus, for the fifth consecutive year, returned with first honors from the junior contests at the state convention of the Missouri Federation of Music clubs held during the last week in St. Louis. Eleven other young Sedalia musicians were winners in the junior contests which were staged Saturday, the closing day of the convention.

Winning contestants were Mary Beth Kueck, and Mary Jane Scott, piano ensemble, duet, class D, (14-15 years); Mary Jo Hale and Donald Gene Wells, piano duo, class A, second; Harold Kueck, trombone, class C; Elynn Beach and Virginia Scruton, girl's vocal duet; Roswell Beach, Wallace Hunt and Ernest Slatinsky, boy's vocal trio; Delbert Ratje, Ellyn Beach, Mary Frances Stoner and Ernest Slatinsky, mixed vocal quartet.

Sedalia's Helen G. Steele Music club took first place in the music club scrap book contest, in competition with the senior state clubs. The book was compiled by Mrs. Ernest Liebel.

Personnel of Chorus

Members of the Beulah Yancey Music club chorus who sang in the junior choral contest Saturday were Marjorie Anderson, Betty Hill, Iona Green, Dorothy Berger, Mary Kathryn Green, Margaret Gasperson, Iva Anna Hall, Dorothy Herrick, Annabel Hugelman, Ruby Joyce, Marian Kanter, Marjorie Loveland, Rayma Jean Matthews, Mary Ethel McGowan, Kay McMurdo, Patty Pruitt, Patty Rissler, Jean Rector, Virginia Ross, Marvalee Robinson, Betty Roberts, Mary Jane Scott, Mary Frances Stoner, Dorothy Thomas, Pearl Wagner, Kathryn Wade, Nancy Willet, Mary Lou

Bus Overturns; 17 Injured

WEATHERFORD, Tex., April 15—(AP)—Seventeen persons were injured when a heavily loaded bus (Greyhound) overturned twice six miles west of here on highway 88 today, after reportedly being blown off the highway by a tornado.

At almost the same time a twister hit the Parker county communities of Milsap and Newberry near here, injuring one person.

The bus was east bound, coming into Weatherford from Mineral Wells, Tex., and carried 30 passengers and the driver, L. B. Epps, who was unhurt. The driver said a heavy wind caused the wreck.

Mrs. John Simpson was injured in Newberry community which is three miles northeast of Millsap when she was caught by falling timbers as her home was demolished by the storm and caught fire. A neighbor, Miss Addie Wood, lifted timbers and dragged Mrs. Simpson from the blazing debris. Mrs. Simpson was taken to Mineral Wells hospital, where her condition was not adjudged serious.

Convention Of WOW In City On April 24-25

Biennial Head Camp Meeting At Hotel Bothwell

Missouri members of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society will assemble in their biennial head camp convention in Sedalia on April 24 and 25. Meetings are to be held at the Bothwell Hotel.

National officers expected at the meeting are directors Wm. Ruess and R. E. Miller, also Dr. A. D. Cloyd, medical director, all of Omaha, Neb., and Director Sterling C. Holston of Los Angeles, Calif.

In addition to Head Consul Gus Weis, of St. Louis, other prominent Missouri members who will attend include L. H. Frayling of Kansas City, Robert Vogt of Monett, Tom J. Bridgmon of Bigelow, Frank J. Stetina of St. Louis, A M. Click of Springfield, Fred E. Henze of St. Joseph and George G. Weiland of St. Louis, and W. G. McClain of Springfield, state manager.

Big Class Initiation

One of the features of the local meeting will be the initiation of a large class of members from all sections of the jurisdiction. Elaborate ceremonies will attend their formal induction into the Society.

This initiation will be at convention hall Monday night to be concluded at 9 o'clock, followed by a dance. Metcalf's orchestra will play. Admittance to the dance will be by card only, and they may be secured from E. L. Zoellig or John Brandt. The Sedalia camp expects to have one hundred candidates in the class to be adopted.

Six years ago Sedalia entertained this assembly, and there is some talk of this city being made a permanent meeting place because of its central location in the state.

State Manager W. G. McClain, of Springfield, has had the assistance of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, city officials, and preliminary arrangements for the convention.

Democracies Happy Over U. S. Message

But Doubt If Note Will Change Policy Of Rome-Berlin Axis

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON, April 15—(AP)—Both Britain and France tonight grasped President Roosevelt's plea for at least 10 years of peace as an opening for a non-aggression pact.

Prime Minister Chamberlain hailed it as "statesmanlike initiative." A British government statement which he authorized called it "a real opportunity of averting the catastrophe which overhangs Europe."

France quickly and unreservedly accepted the American telegram as a proposal for a 10-year non-aggression pact. French Premier Daladier himself told United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt in Paris that France was ready to enter such a world agreement.

The British government statement also indicated similar optimism in Britain, expressing "the firm hope" that the dictators' "replies will open the way to further steps of which the President speaks."

But Troops Still March

But at almost the same time the British war office announced that the first batallion of the Welsh Guards regiment would be sent to Gibraltar "on or after April 22" to buttress the defenses of that key to Britain's armed might in the Mediterranean.

The measures, including new land barricades to protect the strategic fortress, followed reports of new Italian troop concentrations across the Strait of Gibraltar in Spanish Morocco and Germany's announcement that her fleet would hold maneuvers off the Spanish Portuguese and Moroccan coasts.

Southeastern Europe, nations of which were named among the 31 for which President Roosevelt asked specifically guarantees of non-aggression, was jubilant.

Contribution To Peace

A Rumanian foreign office official said "the President's declaration is a tremendous contribution to the efforts of the forces striving for peace." Pleased Yugoslav officials wired the text to Premier Cvetkovich in Zagheb.

In London diplomatic quarters generally, however, doubt was expressed whether the message would change the policy of the Rome-Berlin axis in any major way.

"One thing is certain," observed one diplomat. "It is the hardest message to answer in the history of diplomacy. It would be easier to declare war than to answer it."

The consensus in London embassies seemed to be that the appeal at least would have the effect of placing the responsibility for a new war if it does not prevent one.

Symphony to Rehearse On Tuesday Night

The Sedalia Symphony orchestra will rehearse Tuesday night at Smith-Cotton high school, under the direction of Abe Rosenthal.

This will be the last regular rehearsal before the special concert to be given Tuesday night, April 25, at Lincoln high school, and Mr. Rosenthal urges all members to attend.

The orchestra also has begun rehearsal on numbers for the program to be presented on the final concert of the season, Tuesday night, May 2, at Smith-Cotton high school.

President Asks Peace Promise From Dictators

Wants Mussolini, Hitler To Assure World They Will Stop Aggression

(By Richard L. Turner)

WASHINGTON, April 15—(AP)—President Roosevelt has asked Hitler and Mussolini to promise a crisis-weary world ten unbroken years of peace by giving assurances they will not send armies crashing into lands now independent.

He told the dictators that if they complied he would gather the nations of the world about a council table to obtain relief from the "crushing burden of armament" and rearrange the world's economy that all countries may have access to the raw materials and products they need.

Mr. Roosevelt entreaty, so phrased that while conciliatory and friendly it was always firm and in some passages even blunt, went forward to Rome and Berlin during the night. It was announced at a special press conference this morning, with Mr. Roosevelt adding he and Secretary Hull had both slept the better last night for having discharged what they considered a conscience-duty to do what ever they could to prevent the outbreak of a devastating war.

Asks Guarantees

The president put the future brusquely up to the dictators with an unadorned question: "Are you willing to give assurances that your armed forces will not attack or invade the territory or possessions of the following independent nations xxx." He went on to name every country in Europe except, of course, Italy, Germany, and the territories they have already seized.

Continuing, he told the dictators that he was sure the other European nations would be willing to make a like guarantee and he offered to act as an "intermediary.' Officials explained that with the use of that word the president was not offering to "mediate" European quarrels. But rather to act as a "post office" for keeping each nation acquainted with the other's views.

"In making this statement," Roosevelt said, "we as Americans speak not through selfishness or fear or weakness. If we speak now, it is with the voice of strength and with friendship for mankind. It is still clear to me that international problems can be solved at the council table."

Names 31 Countries

In asking assurances that Italy and Germany would not molest independent nations, Mr. Roosevelt named 31 countries: Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, The Netherlands, Belgium, Great Britain and Ireland, France, Portugal, Spain, Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Luxemburg, Poland, Hungary, Ru-

Danzig Not In List Mentioned By F. D. R.

WASHINGTON, April 15—(AP)—An important omission in the list of thirty-one countries mentioned by President Roosevelt in his appeal to Hitler was the free city of Danzig.

The omission was considered significant in view of dispatches from Berlin reporting the likelihood that Hitler would seize Danzig next week and add it to the German reich.

Its non-inclusion in the president's list led informed persons to believe that its absorption into Germany already had been discounted here.

Nazis Reject Roosevelt's Peace Plea

Plans To Seize Danzig Are Said To Be Unchanged

BERLIN, April 15—(AP)—In terms which left no doubt Adolf Hitler intends to reject President Roosevelt's appeal for a world conference, the controlled German press tonight attacked the American peace message which asked for an Italian-German 10-year non aggression pledge.

The same view was expressed in semi-official circles in Munich where Hitler weighed his possible answer and consulted by telephone with his Rome ally, Premier Mussolini.

The officially inspired commentary Deusche Dienst said Mr. Roosevelt had directed his message "to the wrong address."

Officially inspired comment referred to the American President's action as "a dumb diverting maneuver," "new proof of the intellectual helplessness of the democratic western powers," and "a shabby propaganda pamphlet."

Reasons Against Peace

The Nazi press harped on three reasons for scorning the peace message and President Roosevelt's proposal that a peace conference be called should Germany and Italy give 10-year, or possibly 25-year, pledges not to make war on any European nation:

1. Bolshevism would be "an equal partner" at such a conference table.

2. Germany had been denied redress at international conference tables since the Versailles treaty was imposed on her.

3. Bilateral talks between powers would achieve greater results than conferences including many powers.

Joint Fascist Reply

At the other end of the telephone line to Rome, Germany's No. 2 Nazi, Field Marshall Hermann Wilhelm Goering, was conferring with Mussolini and it was considered possible a joint Italian-German reply might be made.

On the face of things it did not seem as though Roosevelt's appeal would affect such plans as are rumored for seizure of Danzig by East Prussian troops not later than next Wednesday, the eve of Hitler's 50th birthday.

Rumors said troops might march into Danzig on Wednesday from East Prussia without crossing an inch of Polish soil, thus relieving Poland of the necessity of making a dangerous decision whether to yield or resist Germany's long-standing claim on the free state.

(The town of Danzig and adjacent territory were taken from Germany at the end of the World War and placed under the protection of the League of Nations. It is in the Polish Customs Administration but its Parliament now is dominated by Nazis in close contact with Berlin.)

Transfer For American Envoy

WASHINGTON, April 15—(AP)—Alexander Comstock Kirk, American charge d'affaires at Moscow, has been ordered transferred to Berlin in the same capacity.

Kirk will take the place of Prentiss Gilbert, who died last month. Indications are that Kirk will be in charge of the Berlin embassy for some time, since there is no indication President Roosevelt will permit Hugh R. Wilson to return there as ambassador until relations between the two countries better.

Kirk has been in the foreign service for 24 years.

Ellsworth Green Made Director

JOPLIN, MO. April 15—(AP)—Charles Main of Monnett was elected president of the Missouri Junior Chamber of Commerce today, defeating Carroll Cannon of St. Louis. On Cannon's motion, the election was made unanimous.

Woodson Oldham, Webb City, defeated Elmer S. Shrout, Cape Girardeau, for secretary.

Poplar Bluff was selected as the 1940 convention city.

Ellsworth Green, Sedalia, was elected national director; Robert Musser, Columbia, treasurer; Peagson Ward, Springfield, Jack Hibler, St. Joseph, Denver Hudson, Mexico, Al Duker, University City, and Tom Baldwin, Kennet, vice presidents.

Ellsworth Green is secretary of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce and has been president of the state junior C of C group.

Colorful Acts In Homes Show And Exposition

Amusement In Addition To The Fine Displays

A varied and colorful group of acts have been booked by the committee in charge of the stage attractions for the Sedalia National Homes Show and Exposition to be held April 24 to April 29, inclusive, in the Coliseum at the State Fair grounds, Emmet Sullivan, secretary of the local show, announced Saturday. The exposition is being sponsored by the Sedalia Federation of Labor.

Stage Being Constructed

The large stage, 50 by 30 feet, on which the acts will be presented, is now under construction at the Coliseum. The placing of the booths for displays will start the first of this week.

Among the headliners will be "Dorothy Lang's Debutantes," eleven girls featuring several styles of line routine and three specialties, including whirlwind toe numbers.

Outstanding will be "The Four Clovers," described as "America's comedy teeter-board artists," and rated as sensational performers on the teeter board in fast acrobatic tricks, supplemented with comedy turns.

"Evelyn" the girl member of the "Burns Twins and Evelyn" dancing act does an unusual toe tap military dance on a drum. An act that is considered exceptionally exciting is the roller skating of "The Two Kays—King and Kweene of Thrills," who do all their skating on the top of a table. Their feature is a blind-folded number of spins and swivels on the small performing area they use.

Dave Roberts who will serve as master of ceremonies also will present a novelty act with trained dogs.

There will be a total of ten acts for the stage attractions. Several others are yet to be booked, and they will be announced later, Mr. Sullivan said.

Final general arrangements for Sedalia's Home Show and Exposition have been made and technical details are now being completed, the committees in charge have announced.

It is reported that the advance ticket sales being conducted by various organizations in the city, during the last week, have met with excellent response.

mania, Yugoslavia, Russia, Bulgaria, Greece, Turkey, Iran, the Arabias, Syria, Palestine, Egypt and Iran.

"Such assurances," Mr. Roosevelt continued, "clearly must apply not only to the present day but also to a future sufficiently long to give every opportunity to work by peaceful methods for a more permanent peace. I, therefore, suggest that you construe the word quote future unquote (President's text) to apply to a minimum period of assured non-aggression—ten years at the least—a quarter of a century if we dare look that far ahead.

"Simultaneously the government of the United States would be prepared to take part in discussions looking towards the most practical manner of opening up avenues of international trade to the end that every nation of the earth may be enabled to buy and sell on equal terms in the world market as well as to possess assurance of obtaining the materials of peaceful economic life.

Hopes for Right Answer

"I hope that your answer will make it possible for humanity to lose fear and regain security for many years to come."

In Washington, the president's move was promptly caught up in the continuing controversy between congressional isolationists and those who feel that America should take bold steps in connection with Europe's crisis.

"It's good publicity," sardonically observed the senate's arch-isolationist, Senator Johnson (R-Calif).

"It's a very constructive and laudable proposal," said Sen. Barkley (D-Ga), adding, however, that if something could be done to re-establish world trade by friendly intervention "that would be all right."

Supplementing the peace messages, orders were issued sending most of the United States fleet from the Atlantic to its normal station in the Pacific. Various interpretations were put upon this move. There were those who felt its purpose was a gesture of friendliness and confidence toward Europe, intended to show that Washington feels it safe to leave its Atlantic protection to a fraction of the naval establishment now on the eastern seaboard. Others, seemingly more numerous, expressed belief it was done for its effect upon Tokyio Diplomats said Japan had frequently chosen times of European turmoil to extend her sway in

Relations In Turn For Better

BUCHAREST, Rumania, April 15—(AP)—Thousands of Rumanian soldiers who had been concentrated for three weeks within striking distance of the Hungarian border started home tonight, and Hungarian-Rumanian relations took a sharp turn for the better.

The way appeared to be clear for new diplomatic negotiations on concessions to the 1,200,000 Hungarian minority in Rumania. (Most of them live in eastern Transylvania, which Rumania got in the World War.)

(The Budapest Foreign Office expressed satisfaction over the troop withdrawals and the entire Balkan peninsula was believed to hear that good will seemed to be replacing suspicion along at least one frontier.)

The Rumanian decision to recall some of her "concentrated" soldiers (Rumania has stoutly protested that no soldiers were "mobilized") followed an afternoon conference between the Hungarian minister, Laszlo Bardossy, and the Rumanian premier, Armand Calinescu.

Informed sources said that the Hungarian-Rumanian approachment had the approval of Germany and Poland. Germany, wishing to make the most of her recent trade agreement with Rumania, wanted no disturbances in the Balkans, Poland wanted improved relations between the two states before committing herself to a closer alliance with Rumania.

Resume Police Bill Debate

At Jefferson City, hearings will be resumed Wednesday on a Stark-backed bill to transfer control of the Kansas City police department from the city administration back to state hands.

Higgins' resignation was received by Mayor Smith shortly before the city council met to act formally on McElroy's resignation.

"No wholesale head-chopping" will result from today's shakeup, Smith said.

Rumors of other resignations came with the mayor's announcements.

"Clean up the town and keep it clean," was Zachman's first order to Boyle. He added: "Continue even more vigorously than before the safety campaign."

One of Boyle's first official acts was to order Sgt. Roy Prather, police paymaster, to check fingerprint records of policemen to determine whether there are any ex-convicts on the force.

"There has been some criticism of the department on that score," Boyle said. "If there are ex-convicts on the force they will have to go at once."

Boyle said there will be no "wholesale firing."

"With the exception of a few men," he said, "the present staff of policemen is a fine personnel."

Spring Wind Kills Seven In Oklahoma

Six Injured At Marshall; Storm Hits Carthage

By FRANCIS E. BARDEN

CAPRON, Okla., April 15—(AP)—A savage spring tornado slashed across a wide section of northwest Oklahoma early today, killing seven persons and injuring 33 or more, but in this community where nearly every building was smashed, not a death occurred.

Starting at Vici, 60 miles to the south, where one man was injured fatally, the twister bounced on to Hopeton, 40 miles south of here, then hopped about, killing six more persons in farming areas.

The dead:

Mrs. Bessie Wendel, Waynoka, wife of a Woods county commissioner. She was in an automobile in which six Waynoka high school students were caught by the storm near Hopeton. The wind picked up the car and hurled it down, but only one student was hurt seriously.

Oscar Harzman, 45, of near Alva.

Mrs. Harzman, 40, president of the Alva American Legion Auxiliary.

Louise Harzman, 20, a sophomore at Northwestern State Teachers College, Alva.

Adam Vollmer, 70, and his wife, 67, farmers of near Alva, who were trapped in their wrecked home.

J. N. Voorhees, Vici, who was pinned in the wreckage of a stone house.

The Harzmans, residing eight miles southeast of Alva, were killed at their farm home. Harzman's body was found nearly a mile away.

Capron, a community of 155, was a desolate scene. The whirlwind roared right down Main street shortly after 2 a. m. (CST), and left damage estimated by Mayor Lester Blue at $500,000.

Only Mark Mohs, Hutchinson, Kas., visiting a brother here, was injured seriously. He had a severed artery and other injuries but was expected to live.

Huge splinters and pieces of tin littered farm land three or four miles from town. Pools of water were left by a heavy rain.

The large consolidated school was a pile of rubbish. Bricks were scattered a block. A grain elevator, a railroad depot, a lumber yard, the telephone office, blacksmith shop, drug store, city hall, postoffice and other buildings were leveled.

At Vici, 50 dwellings and stores were damaged and nearly all houses were unroofed.

Wind And Hail Devastates

CARTHAGE, Mo., April 15.—(AP)—A wind and hail storm that struck here late today damaged three-fourths of the city's homes and many business buildings.

Insurance men estimated the total loss at beween $250,000 and $300,000. Approximately 3,000 homes suffered some damage. The loss was due mostly to hail and water pouring through damage roofs.

Most of the loss was in the business section and the southwest part of town.

No one was reported injured beyond cuts by flying glass.

The roof was torn from the hangar at the city airport and six planes were damaged. Damage to the Stephen Hyde Greenhouses was estimated at $4,000. Hail stood a foot deep in many places.

The hail riddled windows of the north, south and west sides of buildings in the stricken districts. Virtually every window on those sides of the Jasper county court house was smashed.

Anllis Wallingford and Miss Frances Smith, employes in the county collector's office, were cut by glass. Many court house workers took refuge in vaults in the basement.

Rain amounting to 1.44 inch fell before the hail struck. It was the second storm of the day, .86 rainfall having been measured in an earlier disturbance which was also accompanied by hail.

Streets and basements were flooded, and the water ran over the running boards of autos in several streets. Some hail-battered cars were stalled by the storm.

The Central and Hawthorne schools and the Carthage high school were extensively damaged from hail and water.

The front of the W. G. Springer Printing Plant was blown out by the wind and roofs were ripped from some neighboring buildings. Two flour mills and many other factories were hard hit. Several trees were uprooted. Damage to farms surrounding the city seemed confined to a narrow srtip.

Six Injured At Marshall

Hail and wind swept most of southwest Missouri, and at Marshal a tornado early today injured six persons.

Hailstones large as baseballs fell in Joplin, Carthage, Webb City and Carterville, while wind of tornadic proportions swept the east edge of Webb City.

The storm, which was accompanied by a torrential rain, caused damage estimated "in the thousands of dollars."

Heavy rains in other sections of Missouri sent creeks out of their banks.

Lightning was blamed for a $10,000 garage fire at Gower, Mo., near St. Joseph. Volunteer firemen couldn't do a thing about it because their equipment was stored in the building.

The Marshall twister destroyed two houses southwest of the central Missouri city about 2:30 o'clock this morning. It wrecked a house on the Helen Terrell farm, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pannell and their three children. Then the wind crushed the nearby home of L. A. Potter. All six persons suffered minor hurts.

Heavy rains fell at other points, Jefferson City reporting 2.20 inches, Kansas City 1.49 during the afternoon and more than an inch fell in St. Louis. Continued rain would mean floods, weather bureau officials warned.

To top off the freak weather, a sharp but brief earthquake shook New Madrid and the surrounding territory. No serious damage was caused by the tremor, at 11:25 a. m., though it cracked some windows and damaged tavern stocks in the two minutes it lasted.

At Charleston, lightning killed 25 head of yearling steers when it struck a corn crib under which they were huddled on the Frank K. Shelby farm.

Axis Help Is Asked By Tokyo

TOKYO, April 15—(AP)—The newspaper Nichi Nichi reported today the Japanese government had decided to enlist German and Italian aid to force "third powers" to halt their assistance to China in the undeclared Chinese-Japanese war.

Great Britain, France and Soviet Russia were named specifically as "third powers," but the United States would be included in the drive since the newspaper said Japan herself would bring pressure on nations "which have rights and interests in China."

Joseph Pulitzer, Jr., To Wed Miss Vanclain

HAVERFORD, Pa., April 15—(AP)—The engagement of Miss Louise Vauclain, granddaughter of Samuel Vauclain, chairman of the board of the Baldwin Locomotive works, to Joseph Pulitzer, Jr., of St. Louis, was announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacques L. Vauclain.

Pulitzer is a member of the editorial staff of the St. Louis Post Dispatch of which his father is publisher. He is the grandson of Joseph Pulitzer, former publisher of the old New York World.

Marquee Taken To Hospital From Yacht

VANCOUVER, British Columbia, April 15.—(Canadian Press)—The marquee of Sligo, brother-in-law of the earl of Stanhope, first lord of the British admiralty, was taken to a hospital here last night suffering from an undisclosed illness. He was removed from the yacht Fantome after a physician had been called. The physician said the exact nature of his illness had not been determined.

James Roosevelt Visits in Brussels

BRUSSELS, Belgium, April 15.—(AP)—James Roosevelt arrived from London by plane today at attend a ball at the United States embassy which Ambassador Joseph Davies is giving tonight in honor of the engagement of his daughter Emlen, to Robert Grosjean.

Jackie Coogan Sued For $107 in Taxes

LOS ANGELES, April 15—(AP)—Complications of their separation early this year descended on Jackie Coogan, actor, and his wife, Betty Grable, today. The county filed suit against Coogan for $107 taxes in 1938, as a result of sale of household furnishings valued at $2,000 while they were parted. The Coogans reunited several weeks ago.

Roosevelt Hears Mock Garner Plead He Leave

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(AP)—President Roosevelt heard tonight a mock Jack Garner pleading with him to "get out of town—make way for a Texas man."

The President also saw Republican leaders ending their search for a 1940 candidate with the "ghost" of Dr. Francis E. Townsend of old age pension fame.

With other prominent guests of the Gridiron Club, the chief executive heard an actor dressed as the vice-president sing, to a popular tune:

"The fear when we meet
That you will repeat—
Well, frankly, it's getting me down—
So on your mark, get set, get out of town."

The newspapermen's musical allusion to the expected battle among Democrats for the 1940 presidential nomination was matched by the forecast heard by two Republican "Hamlets"—representing Senator Taft of Ohio and Thomas E. Dewey of New York:

"Tell the voters the grand old party is back!

"G. O. P.—Generosity our policy."

The audience at the semi-annual banquet of the newspapermen's club included the vice-president and other men often mentioned as presidential possibilities. In addition, justices of the supreme court, government heads, industralists, labor leaders, famous authors and journalists were among the 500 guests.

President In Skit

Mr. Roosevelt interrupted:

"Is there nothing to be said for a man who daily shares the wisdom of the ages with all men? Can a man help it if he is omniscient? Is it fair to pillory such a man merely because he is—a newspaper columnist?"

Thus, Mr. Roosevelt introduced the new president of the Gridiron Club—Raymond Clapper of the Scripps-Howard service.

President Roosevelt and Senator Taft made the "off the record" speeches of the evening.

"The spirit of fear" set the theme of the show to the tune of "Hellzapoppin," portraying the businessman "afraid of his shadow," labor leaders afraid of each other, the farmer "afraid of his friend in congress," Democrats afraid they cannot win with Roosevelt and afraid they cannot win without Roosevelt, Republicans afraid they cannot pay the Democratic bills, European dictators "afraid of the day when fear runs out." A chorus concluded "all we fear is fear."

Actors representing James Roosevelt of the movies, Elliott Roosevelt, the radio broadcaster, and John Boettiger, the newspaper publisher, sing:

"All three ways of spreading news and much publicity were gathered to the bosom of one happy family, x x x in movies, press and radio, we will not let it drop—we are the Roosevelt musketeers, one for all—and all for pop."

Condition Unchanged

The condition of G. C. Hull, Jr., of 240 South Prospect, remains about the same.

A "COOKING" STORY FOR MEN ONLY

Science plays some funny tricks, so—

Colors are not only bright this year, but they're "cooked," too.

The story goes like this:

For years scientists have been faced with the problem of preparing colors for roofing or shingling that would not fade under severe weathering. Ordinary roofing, which consists of painted chips of rock, failed to retain its fresh coloring long enough to suit the scientists.

Recently it was discovered that bright colors could be fused into quartz granules under intense white heat which resulted in glistening colors that would not wear off or fade.

The heat under which this process takes place reaches 2250 degrees Fahrenheit, a degree of heat that would easily melt most metals, not to say anyone that might be holding the metal. In fact, the intensity of this heat is 6 times greater than that used by the housewife in the average cooking or baking.

Mr. Miller, manager of the local Montgomery Ward store, states that this new type of roofing is being featured in the semi-annual Ward Week sale beginning next Wednesday.

"Our Bureau of Standards has put this roofing through some of the most exacting tests imaginable," said Mr. Miller. "And these tests show that roofing or shingling of this type will give satisfactory service for as long as 17 years."

To win public support for his program of Mediterranean expansion, now begun with Italy's invasion of Albania, Premier Mussolini repeatedly harrangues the Italian masses. These pictures, just arrived in America, show Mussolini (left) addressing 65,000 at the Olympic Stadium in Rome, and (right) the enthusiastic response he gets from Fascist listeners.

• Sunday School Lesson

Paul Establishes Churches
Text: Acts 14:1-7, 19-23

Our lesson presents a rather typical scene in Paul's missionary journeys. Whenever he went, as a Jew, he made his contacts with the synagogue. There in the midst of those of his own race, he spoke of these new aspects of faith that had come to him with his discovery of Jesus Christ.

The inevitable effect was controversy and division — just as there would be controversy and division where any great teacher, emphasizing new aspects of old truth, came into conventional religious circles or groups of religious peoples today. Religious constituencies have never adapted themselves easily or readily to new truth. Thus it was that Paul found himself in conflict with many of those of his own race and of his own religion.

We must not judge these Jews, who opposed Paul, too harshly or too thoughtlessly. They believed very strongly in their own conceptions of God's dealing with Israel. They had a strong consciousness of their place and part as the chosen people; and if they were too ready to exclude others from the grace of God and the choice of God because of that fact, we must remember that they have not at all been alone in that attitude.

Can we not recall in modern Protestantism much of this same attitude, as men thought of some people—and probably of themselves—as foreordained to be saved while others were foreordained to be lost? Religious prejudices or convictions of a particular sort do not change easily, and the Jews who considered that Paul was heretical and dangerous were not at all different from many in the Christian circles and in other religious groups who have regarded the prophet of new truth as heretical and dangerous.

In the cities where Paul went on his journeys the situation was complicated by the fact that Paul believed that the Gentiles were as much as Jews the objects of God's grace. Many of the Gentiles listened to his teaching and responded to the truth as he declared it. But here again Paul had to encounter much opposition from the Gentiles who also regarded him as a fanatic and disturber, so that both Jews and Gentiles united in persecuting Paul and Barnabas.

Jesus had said to His disciples, "When they persecute you in one city, flee to another," and this was exactly what happened in the case of Paul. The missionary journeys were shaped very largely by the persecutions that drove him from one place to another. But one thing that he would not do was give up the preaching of the Gospel. Wherever there were people to hear and be saved, Paul had a mission.

In studying Paul's missionary journeys, it will be found enlightening and helpful to trace them all on a map. Read the Book of the Acts with a good map of the world of that time, and trace Paul's journeys on it from place to place. If one can find time to read further in any good encyclopedia concerning the various cities where Paul went, it will give a most gratifying picture of Paul's environment and a new understanding of his situation. The Book of the Acts will become a much more human and living book in this process.

VARYING METHODS

One may receive different treatments in different chiropractic offices. Different doctors may use different technics but the main purpose is the same.

In some offices, one may find various physiotherapy methods such as infra red lamps, long and short wave diatheramy, ultra violet ray, high frequency violet ray or electric sweat baths. These are helpful in certain cases mainly to increase circulation, metabolism and elimination. Used by themselves or in combination they are not adequate treatment. The chiropractic adjustment, to restore normal nerve supply, is more important and without this the best results will not be obtained.

Dr. Roy M. Keller

Chiropractors not using such methods are doing the fundamental and important thing. Chiropractic adjustments will restore normal function and circulation. These using physiotheraphy methods do so because they believe they obtain quicker results.

• Clifton City

(By Mrs. Add Johnson)

At the meeting of the Clifton City Homemakers at the home of Mrs. C. A. Higdon, reports were given by different project leaders. Mrs. S. F. Hussey, food chairman, gave one on a previous meeting for food leaders and made plans for the "balanced meal" to be served at the home of Mrs. Oscar Dove at the May meeting. Mrs. Add Johnson, in charge of the yard project, gave a brief report and urged members to make several improvements this season in the yards. Mrs. Edna Smith and Mrs. E. J. Hallahan, sewing project leaders, demonstrated how to fit and set in sleeves. Club members also discussed the various ways in which bias and straight tapes could be used, and how to fit women's and children's shoes. The feature of a afternoon was a talk by Mrs. Harry Sneed, of Sedalia, on "Changing Homes in a Changing World." It was much enjoyed and a vote of thanks was tendered her.

Each member donated to the Cooper county "Chest Loan" which is in charge of Miss Sue Wilson, Cooper county health nurse. The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Oscar Dove the first Wednesday in May.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Cox entertained at their home Sunday honcring their son, Junior and daughter, Mrs. Harold Fricke, of Sedalia, on their birthday anniversaries which were the past week, Junior's on the tenth and Mrs. Fricke's on the thirteenth. The repast served was a sumptuous one and seated at the dining table which was centered with a large birthday cake were: Mr. Fricke, Mr. and Mrs. Cox and the grandmother, Mrs. Mollie Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Add Johnson and daughter, Challis Louise, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hallahan. The afternoon was spent in games and other pastimes.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Smith visited Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. R. W. Stewart, and family at Green Ridge Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson had as guests at dinner Sunday Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. Joe Johnson and Mr. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. William Hayes, all of Pleasant Green.

"Bud" Johnson made a business trip to Boonville Tuesday.

Miss Margaret Harlan, who teaches Lone Elm school near Boonville, was home Tuesday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Harlan, and in company with them made a trip to Sedalia to make acquaintance of Kay Louise Harlan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Harlan, born Sunday, April 2. Miss Margaret returned to her school Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Aggler and children spent Easter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schuster, near Pilot Grove.

The sarong—Dorothy Lamour's famous South Seas costume — follows the star with the persistence of Mary's little lamb! Even in her latest picture, "St. Louis Blues," opening Tuesday for three days at the Liberty Theatre, her big dramatic role shows the glamorous Dorothy clad in the hated sarong—though only for a brief scene. Paramount's candid cameraman recorded for posterity Miss Lamour's tragic return to the garb she made famous! The characters are: Dorothy the Determined; Director Raoul Walsh, the villian of the piece; and Lloyd Nolan, the star's handsome new leading man.

Class Clash!

Class warfare breaks out in "Cafe Society," Paramount's comedy of life among the rich and important, with Madeleine Carroll, the "queen bee" of the 400, lined up against Shirley Ross, a girl from the other side of Fifth Avenue. And there isn't much Fred MacMurray can do about it! The film opens a two day run today at the Liberty Theatre.

All-Midget "Terror Of Tiny Town," Called Greatest Novelty In Years, At Uptown Today And Monday

A new type of western picture has come out of Hollywood. It's a film whose production costs were increased ten per cent because the leading lady kept falling from her horse. It's a melodrama whose hero found it impossible to fire a man-sized six-shooter and so .22 blanks with reduced charges of powder had to be especially manufactured. It's an outdoor action picture whose fast-riding cowboys had to be taught to ride. It's "The Terror of Tiny Town", full length feature, with an all-midget cast which comes to the Uptown Theatre Today and Monday. Midgets gathered in Hollywood from all parts of the world enact this riotous and novel melodrama. The actors and actresses, all less than four feet in height, the film takes man-sized movies for an hilarious ride astride Shetland ponies. Leading roles are played by Billy Curtis, the Don Juan of the midget world, by Yvonne Moray, the three-and-a-half foot maiden whose heart palpitates for Billy, and Little Billy, the "heavy" with a liquid voice and a mean .22 caliber shooting iron. Second feature on the program is "WOMAN AGAINST WOMAN" with Herbert Marshall, Virginia Bruce and Mary Astor.

Clinic Success For Crippled

Examinations Be Helpful To Ones Needing Attention

The sixth Crippled Children's clinic in Pettis county held within the past eleven years, at the Bothwell hospital Friday, was a very successful one, and of the one hundred three children registered for examination ninety-seven were present and examined. Reports of their conditions will be given the parents and recommendation made for treatment wherever possible. In many cases hospitalization and treatment will be made possible through the Pettis County Crippled Children's Society, which sponsored the clinic.

Dr. W. J. Stewart, Dr. L. Shoup, Miss Emily Evans, a nurse, Miss Flossie Griffith, stenographer, and Miss Ruth Olson, medical social consultant, all from the University hospital staff, Columbia, Dr. Asa Barnes, Higginsville, director of the district public health unit, Miss Alberta Chase, St. Louis, executive secretary of the Missouri Society for Crippled Children who organized the Pettis county chapter, Paul Kinder, of the vocational rehabilitation service, Jefferson City, were all from out of town for the day, assisting. The examinations were made by Dr. Stewart.

Pleased in Results

Miss Chase, Miss Nadyne Anderson, field nurse for the Crippled Children's service and Mrs. J. C. Connor, secretary of the Pettis county chapter, who were largely responsible for the preliminary arrangements for the clinic, were very gratified over the results, and appreciate the cooperation they received from the children themselves, the committee and all who assisted.

The Pettis County Medical Society was represented by twenty-two of its members, who were in attendance at various hours during the day. Nurses assisting were Miss Betty Field, city school nurse Miss Elizabeth Guy, county school nurse, Mrs. Gordon Potter, superintendent of the Bothwell hospital, Miss Beulah Hook, Miss Leon Garnett. Miss Helen Turner, Miss Carol Hodgin, Mrs. Blanche Crawford.

Lunch for Children

Lunch was served the children by members of the P. E. O., Mrs. H. C. Feuers, Mrs. B. E. Broaddus, Mrs. Henry Salveter, Mrs. Earl Gold, Mrs. Henry Loving, Mrs. Edward Hoffman, Mrs. J. G. Love, Miss Charlotte Snow. They served sandwiches and coffee, the Tullis-Hall Dairy supplied one hundred and thirty bottles of milk and the Meadow Gold Ice Cream company one hundred Smoozies.

Transportation was furnished by the Elks lodge, arranged by a committee of which D. E. Kennedy was chairman. Cars were furnished from 7 a. m. until 5 p. m. by Gillespie's, J. G. Purvis driving; McLaughlin's, Bob Reed, driving; John McGrath, Rev. O. J. Rumpf, Leon Archias, Wm. Hartman, Duane Ewing.

Chairs and tables were furnished by McLaughlin's and Gillespie's and the hospital furnished linens and aided with the nursing staff. The entire basement of the building was turned over to the clinic.

Buddy McNamara, Victor Bax, Frank Coffman and Don Lamm, Jr., were boy scouts who assisted in many ways. Mrs. Emily Meyer and Miss Helen Musick entertained the children by giving readings and B. H. Wenner offered his services for showing a film, Whitley Woodson, of the Sedalia fire department was on duty all day. He has never missed assisting at a clinic since it was started. Posters were made by Leslie Hale.

Civic Clubs Assist

Others assisting during the day from the various clubs, Kiwanis, Rotarians, Lions, Elks, Sorosis, Business and Professional Women's club, P. T. A. and Helen G. Steele Music club were: Mrs. R. R. Highleyman, Mrs. M. P. Shy, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reed, Mrs. G. V. Jones, Mrs. M. E. Green, Mrs. E. H. Ehrlers, Mrs. Wm. R. Courtney, Philip McLaughlin, Mrs. Victor Scott, Mrs. Leon Archias, Miss Jessie Blair, Mrs. W. F. Keyser, Mrs. C. A. Wright, Miss Jean McClure, Mrs. Claire Montgomery, Mrs. G. A. Widder; from the social security office in addition to Mrs. Connor were Miss Rose Anne Dugan, Miss Mary Chloris Nelson, Mrs. Marie McClure, Mrs. J. G. Banks, Mrs. John Rector, Mrs. Malcolm Scott, Miss Louise Snell, Miss Emra Williams and Miss Barbara Collier, Mrs. Lawson McCurdy, county welfare officer.

Miss Mary Jane Isbell, home demonstration agent in Benton county, brought three children from that county to the clinic.

Troop 50

The meeting was opened at the Armory with the Scout oath and laws at 7 o'clock. Scoutmaster I. S. Barnes was in charge. Assistant Scoutmaster Leo Harms and Committeemen Walter Jesse, James Keenan and James McNeil were present. We studied first aid with Eugene Gillum leading. Relay games and steal the bacon were played. A softball team is being formed. Any of the troop interested will meet at 1010 East Fourth street at 9 a. m., Saturday. The meeting closed with the Scoutmaster's benediction.

Bernard Kearn, scribe.

Troop 61

Troop 61 held its usual Thursday night meeting on April 13. After working on advancement we discussed the camporee to be held at Liberty Park soon. Then we played our patrol basketball games. The Wolf Patrol had charge of the opening exercises and Mr. Steiner led us in the Scoutmaster's benediction to close the meeting.

Dick Shea, scribe.

Troop 56-A

We met at Washington school with sixteen scouts present. The meeting opened with the Scout oath and laws. We then had an O'Grady drill. We went to Mr. Morrow's room to study on tests for the coming camporee. Each meeting will be devoted to some test and maybe two meetings if necessary.

Mr. Dedrick and Mr. Wolfel, our committeemen, were present and helped us with our tests. Mr. Morrow said we would get points for campgadgets made and present at the meeting. There will be limitations of points and close judging of gadgets. There was no more business to transact so we formed a straight line and were dismissed with the Scoutmaster's benediction and taps.

Maurice Silsby, scribe.

Troop 53

Troop 53 held its meeting Tuesday night at Jefferson school. The meeting opened with the usual procedure. We want to thank the Jefferson school P. T. A., for what they did for us. Wednesday and Thursday of last week they gave a play for the benefit of our troop.

We spent the largest part of the meeting discussing how we were going to spend the money that was made. After we had decided we went to our patrol corners and checked on good turns, dues and attendance. Then we went outside and played a game called pump, pump pullaway. At 9 o'clock we gave the Scout benediction and were dismissed.

We had three troop committeemen present. They were Otis Howe, Sr., John Dirck and Glen Kell Mr. Alley our scoutmaster and Mr. Walker, our assistant scoutmaster were also present. Mr. Alley was in charge of the meeting.

Otis Howe, scribe.

Troop 51

Troop 51 met Monday, April 10th at the Broadway Presbyterian church.

Cecil Swift opened our meeting leading with the opening ceremony.

The treasure report was given, and our weekly budget was checked.

All scouts then took part in a review of knots and nature study given by our scoutmaster. Following this each scout told of a "good turn" he had done in the past week, and the regular meeting was dismissed.

After dismissal our Troop Leaders Council held a short meeting at which time Scouts Cecil Swift and Dick Erickson were given charge of our camporee patrol.

The meeting was adjourned.

Dick Erickson, scribe.

Troop 60

Troop 60 postponed its Monday night meeting to Thursday.

The troop is planning on going to Jefferson City in about a week. We discussed camporee to be held in May.

After repeating the Scout law and oath we played a few games and repeated the Scoutmaster's benediction and the meeting was then adjourned.

Troop 58

We met at Sacred Heart school at 7:15 o'clock last Tuesday night under the direction of John Joe McGrath. Harry McNamara led us in the Scout oath. We played steal the bacon for a while. The First Class Scouts helped the other scouts with their tests. Three of the Tenderfoots, Donald Weller, Charles McHuge and Joe Lennartz passed their pacing test. We had an "O'Grady Drill" led by our Scoutmaster.

Our next meeting will be held at Sacred Heart school at 7:15 Monday, [illegible]17

Community Church At Houstonia Progresses

(By Church Reporter)

The Community church in Houstonia, organized in 1937, holds its services in the little church shown above, a towerless brick edifice with its gables crowned by St. Andrew's crosses. It was organized by a group of far-sighted pepole who believed that the religious and spiritual needs of Houstonia could be better met by pooling all resources and working together in one body rather than trying to carry on with too limited means in three separate bodies. At that time three denominations were trying to function in Houstonia and none of them were succeeding. Services were irregular, pastors' salaries were not always paid, attendance in either of the churches ranged from twenty-five to forty and enthusiasm and aggressiveness had perished. Most of the leading members of the three churches became alarmed at the moral and spiritual stupor into which the community was falling and united in an effort to head off the distressing situation. Out of their united labors the Community church had its birth.

A paper circulated through the community by some of those interested in the enterprise, care being taken that no propaganda should be used and that no pressure should be brought to bear upon anyone to sign. One hundred twenty-five people signed the paper to become the charter members of the new Community church.

For a building in which to worship the out state officers of one of the denominations offered their building provided the new organization would use their denominational name. This, however, did not appeal to the new set-up, so the brick building of one of the other two denominations was accepted. This was the only brick building and was the newest and most modern having been built in 1919.

Is "No Antagonism"

The Community church severly reprimands any one of its members who may take an antagonistic attitude towards anyone in the other churches who did not come into its fold, states the pastor, Rev. Earl Basil Brown. This abscence of antagonism and nagging on the part of the members of the new organization has been mainly responsible for its growth and growing popularity. Anyone regardless of creed may become a member of this church. The only requirement it in arden enthusiasm to live the Christ way of life. Since its organization the new church has grown until its membership now totals approximately 200. Of this number 31 have united with it by letter or confession since Christmas Day of last year.

It is nothing unusual for the Sunday school and church attendance to register 175 to 180 people. There are nine graded classes in the church school under first class teachers. The men's class has an average enrollment of 40. There are 40 women in the women's class. Approximately 30 young people fit into the class of college age.

The church services enjoy the privilege of two excellent choirs, a junior and an adult, under the direction of an experienced choir leader. All choirs and the minister wear vestments.

There are two Christian Endeavor societies; the senior composed of about 30 members and the junior of about 20 members. Both these young people's organizations are sponsored by people from the adult divisions. Both these Endeavor societies are stressing the social needs of life in relation to the spiritual.

Has Large Board

The official board of the church numbers about 28. It meets regularly the first Tuesday in every month, thus keeping abreast of the needs of the church and keeping everything moving in an orderly fashion. Every second Wednesday evening all the members, and others who care, come together in the spacious church basement for a Fellowship supper. For this supper the attendance will average around 210.

The present pastor, Rev. Brown, who was called November 1st of last year, was valedictorian of his class at Iberia Academy and Junior College, Iberia, Missouri, and graduated with an A. B. from Oberlin college, Oberlin, Ohio, in 1934. After spending two years in graduate work at the Graduate School of Theology, Oberlin, Ohio, and receiving his master's degree, he was awarded an Exchange Fellowship, with all expenses paid, for a year of research in New Testament at the University of Halle-Wittenberg, Halle, Germany. He returned to this country in 1937. He was ordained at Eldon, Mo., June 9, 1929, and was at the time of his ordination the youngest ordained minister in the state. He has held pastorates in Missouri, Ohio, and Kansas before coming to Houstonia. At present his salary and all other operating expenses of the church are paid in full and the financial situation for the remainder of the fiscal church year gives promise of being in an excellent shape.

The Community church set for its Easter goal an attendance of 325. At the close of the Sunday school the bulletin board showed an attendance of 311 with a collection of $60.39. During the church services many more people came so that the attendance was well over the 325 mark.

Honors To Jack Wood In Play

Jack Wood, of Smith-Cotton high school, was selected as one of the four outstanding actors participating in the play festival held in Warrensburg last Thursday.

He was a member of the cast in "The Ring and the Look," the play entered by the Smith-Cotton high school dramatics class. Other players in the one-act drama were Connie Michaelis, Elaine Devine, Yvonne Englund, Milicent Bradley, Gene Rector, Minnietta Mosby and Patricia Poundstone.

Pinkney Miller, vocational teacher at the high school, accompanied the cast to Warrensburg.

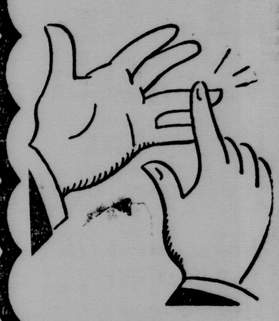

Seven schools sent plays to the festival and the honor one chosen was from the Butler high school.

Robert Burton Died in Chicago Friday

Sedalia relatives of Robert Burton, Negro, aged 50 years, have been apprised of his death in Chicago Friday. He was a brother of Mrs. Jeanette Dinsmore, of Sedalia, and son of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Burton. He came to Sedalia from Danville, Va., when two years old and grew to manhood here. He is survived by the sister named by a daughter, Beatrice Joyce Burton, of Chicago.

The body will be brought to Sedalia and taken to the Alexander Funrela home where funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon the Rev. B. Van Hoose to officiate.

H. G. Steele Music Club Has Many Events For This Week

Violinists On Program Friday Night

Engagement Of Sedalia Girls Announced

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hert, 316 West Eleventh street, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Margaret Lucile Hert to Bruce W. Richey, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Richey, of LaMonte. The wedding will take place June 18.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mather, 330 North Grand avenue, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their niece, Miss Marjorie Carpenter, to Mr. Leroy M. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Lewis, of Columbia, Mo.

The Helen G. Steele Music club, for its final week of the current season, has planned a busy schedule, with the annual business meeting to take place Wednesday afternoon, followed by "An Evening with the Strings" on Friday night and closing with an oratorio to be presented to the public next Sunday evening.

At the business meeting to be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Heard Memorial club house, members will hear reports of committees, and business of the year will be transacted.

High lights of the annual convention of the Missouri Federation of Music clubs, which closed in St. Louis Saturday night, will be given by Mrs. E. F. Yancey, club president, and the two official delegates, Mrs. D. P. Dyer and Mrs. C. W. Green. The Junior contest winners will be presented at this meeting, which all members are urged to attend.

The annual string program of the Music club will be given Friday evening at the club house, under the direction of Mrs. W. B. Hert.

Those who will compose the ensemble are Mrs. Ralph Carrel. Misses Marian Smith, Geraldine Teufel, Margaret Love and Florence Hert and Prof. W. B. Hert, Percy Metcalfe, Abe Rosenthal, J. T. Alexander and Marcus Miller. All are members of the Sedalia Syphony orchestra; Mr. Rosenthal being the conductor. Accompanists will be Miss Alberta Roach and Mrs. Hert.

These talented musicians will be heard in solo, trio, quartet and group numbers. The program is considered one of the most outstanding to be offered by the club.

Sunday night the Helen G. Steele Music club will present "The Elijah," an oratorio with the music of Felix Mendelssohn. This presentation is open to the public and will be staged in one of the local churches.

The solo parts will be taken by four vocalists being sent here by the music department of Stephens college, Columbia. The singers, of mixed voices, will have their own piano accompaniment.

Mrs. A. R. Beach is in charge of the program and is directing a chorus of 25 mixed voices, Sedalia singers, who comprise the vocal background for the oratorio.

The formal spring opening dance was given last night at the Country club in a setting of palms and spring flowers. Music was by Bill Hert and his orchestra.

MAINBOCHER'S charming afternoon ensemble of lightweight navy wool is trimmed with crispy white soutache. Notice that the patches of soutache just above the pleated panels of the skirt match the pockets on the slimly-fitted bodice. When the loose-sleeved bolero jacket is fastened, its two little bits of soutache form one patch which also matches pockets and skirt trimming.

Interesting Meetings For Garden Circles

Sedalia Garden Circle No. 3 met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. E. Walker, of LaMonte, with Mrs. B. F. Parker and Mrs. W. O. Stanley assistant hostesses.

A one o'clock desert luncheon was served to 23 members and five guests, who were Mrs. W. L. Tuqua, Mrs. Milton Shy, Mrs. W. W. Blain, Mrs. George L. Schmidt and Mrs. O'Bannion. The house was lovely with many bouquets of narcissus and daffodils.

Mrs. A. H. Wilks, chairman, presided over a short business session. Mrs. C. L. Carter stated that the Federated Garden club will meet May 11-12. The circle voted to give $15 to the beautification of the Third street project. Mrs. George Chambers, chairman, reported that plans are being formulated for the Flower Show, the date of which will be announced later.

Mrs. George Schmidt spoke on the Conservation Federation of Missouri, affiliated with the National Wild Life federation, saying there are approximately 8,000 members in the state, Pettis county having 400 members. They gave, she reported, 1,000 pounds of lespedeza seed to be sown for feeding purposes and put out quails for restocking.

The Pettis County Women's auxiliary is the first in the state to organize and it is to take over the educational part of conservation, cooperating with the Parent Teachers and rural teachers associations.

Mrs. W. W. Blain gave an interesting talk on birds, saying that gardens and birds are so closely associated that one cannot be regarded without the other. She said there are 850 varieties of birds in the state of Missouri, a larger number than in any other state, due to the shelter belts being furnished. Birds have lanes just as we have highways, Mrs. Blain revealed. There are six flyways in the United States and one of these is in Missouri.

She discussed the different phases of housing for birds, why they migrate and other interesting points.

Dr. W. E. Walker, noted for raising such large beautiful dahlias, spoke on their care and cultivation, bringing out many interesting facts. He also advises that to keep lawns in good condition, do not cut the grass short.

In the flower exhibit those winning honors were:

Mrs. C. L. Carter, first, double narcissus; Mrs. E. L. Pulliam, first, single daffodils; Mrs. W. E. Walker, second, single daffodils; Mrs. S. E. Bushey, third, single daffodils; Mrs. B. F. Parker, first, mixed bouquet; Mrs. W. O. Stanley, second, mixed bouquets and Mrs. A. A. Wherley, third, mixed bouquets.

The Sedalia Garden club will hold a call meeting Tuesday morning at the Lass-Truitt studio. This will take the place of the regular board meeting in May and all members of the board are urged to attend as well as special committee chairmen.

Garden club circle No. 6 was entertained at the home of Mrs. F. H. Meier in Georgetown, Friday, opening with a covered dish luncheon at the noon hour.

The home was very attractive with numerous bouquets of daffodils and other flowers. also the colored plates of our native birds, which later were used in illustrating the topic of the day.

A short business meeting was held, after which Mrs. O. B. Poundstone, chairman of the bird committee, took charge of the program. Mrs. A. C. McGowan gave a most interesting talk on six of our native birds, offering illustrations of each; Mrs. W. W. Hocker then told of several varieties not so well known.

In conclusion Mrs. W. H. Harbaugh spoke on our national bird, the bold eagle, telling many interesting facts about this emblematic bird.

Three new members. Mrs. F. E. Yorkey, Mrs. E. C. Cole and Mrs. B. E. Heacock, and a guest. Mrs. Elizabeth Vanderlinden were introduced.

In the flower exhibit Mrs. P. E. Pearce, Mrs. F. H. Meier, Mrs. E. A. Herman and Mrs. W. A. Harbaugh received honors.

'Ifs' Cloud Major Leagues For 1939 Season Opening Monday

Two Games Open Season; Remaining Teams Start Tuesday

Yankees-Senators, While Cincinnati Host To Pittsburg

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK, April 15—(AP)—A major league year clouded with "ifs," threatened with continued Yankee dominance, and promising dramatic touches in keeping with baseball's centennial starts Monday with one game scheduled in each circuit.

Cincinnati is host to Pittsburgh in the National league curtain raiser, while President Roosevelt will provide the traditional touch to the American loop opener by tossing in the ball for the Senator-Yankee game at Washington.

The other clubs will start play Tuesday. Last year's attendance for the opening games totaled 39,700, with the two-day opening attendance touching 175,000. Barring contrary weather this mark should be at least equaled this year.

Seldom has a season approached with so many little dramas woven into the two major plays; with so many puzzling questions to be answered with joy or heartbreak in broiling midsummer heat.

Will the remade arms of the Hubbells and the Schumachers and the Allens, and the ailing wings of the Deans and the Grissoms, stand the pace or droop like a wilting lily? Will the sturdy iron horse, Lou Gehrig, survive the wear and tear to add another season to his amazing string of consecutive games? Will the Freddy Hutchinsons and the Ted Williams and other touted rookies blossom or fade?

These questions and a host of others only time can answer, as well as the question of whether the Yankees can make history by winning a fourth consecutive pennant.

That the Yankees rate as outstanding favorites cannot be denied, nor is the fact that the National league race has every indication of being another free-for-all, with at least four teams, perhaps more, given better than an outside chance of crashing through.

As the veterans try to carry through and the rookies try to break through, the managerial picture is dotted with new faces. Two pilots, Del Baker of Detroit and Gabby Hartnett of the Chicago Cubs, are starting their first full season, they hope, and Leo Durocher of Brooklyn, Ray Blades of the St. Louis Cardinals, Doc Prothro of the Phillies and Fred Haney of the St. Louis Browns the making their debuts.

All teams claim added strength, either through acquisition of new men or return to form of 1938 cripples. In a nutshell, the clubs stack up like this:

American League

New York, Joe McCarthy, manager—world champions, and rated stronger with three fine rookies—Charley Keller, Joe Gallagher and Warren Rosar. Power, speed and pitching.

Boston, Joe Cronin, manager—power and speed and two fine rookies in Ted Williams, outfielder, and Woodrow Rich, pitcher. Mound strength still a question hinging on Lefty Grove and Elden Auker.

Cleveland, Oscar Vitt, manager—potentially fine pitching staff with Johnny Allen the big question mark. Weak around second base. Great outfield.

Detroit. Del Baker, manager—great infield, but pitching and outfield question marks. Counting heavily on Freddy Hutchinson, expensive mound rookie.

Washington, Bucky Harris manager—major additions three Cubans and a Venezuelan of doubtful ability. May feel loss of power team of Zeke Bonura and Al Simmons.

Chicago, Jimmy Dykes, manager—sixth place club last year and rated around same.

St. Louis, Fred Haney, manager—Buck Newsom, strong hurler, chief assest of team Haney believes is coming.

Philadelphia, Connie Mack, manager. Still in embryo stage with youth predominant. May miss Bill WeWrber sorely.

National League

Chicago, Gabby Hartnett, manager—A champion badly crippled. Dick Bartell, shortstop and Augie Galan, outfielder, hospital cases. Dizzy Dean's value problematical. Looks weaker right now.

Pittsburgh, Pie Traynor, manager—one big puzzle. Zeke Bonura added power but weakened defense. Schumacher, Hubbell questions. Fine rookie hurler in Manuel Salvo. Burgess Whitehead also problem after year's inactivity. Team may crash through or just crash.

Cincinnati. Bill MsKechnie, manager—outlook fine. If Lee Grissom delivers, mound staff may be superb. Power aplenty. Addition of Werber plugs infield gap. May be team to beat.

Boston, Casey Stengel, manager—great home team with exceptional pitching. Added Al Simmons for power. Classy rookie shortstop in Eddie Miller. Defense stressed.

St. Louis, Ray Blades, manager—another puzzle. Mixture of youth and age which may cause trouble. Pitching problem. Johnny Mize and Joe Medwick provide power. Wobbly at certain infield spots. Tom Sunkel, rookie hurler, promising.

Brooklyn, Leo Durocher, manager—Van Lingle Mungo and Cletus Poffenberger mound problems. Whit Wyatt may win as rookie. A scrapping outfit, but not rated real contender.

Philadelphia, Doc Prothro, manager—still the Phillies.

With the exception of the Yankees, who appear to have everything, the problem on most clubs simmers down to the pitching, and the pitching simmers down to the ability of star hurlers of other years to come back after an unprecedented epidemic of arm ailments and operations. If some of them can't, the 1939 season will see the fading from the scene of moundsmen whose wings have made baseball history the past decade and more.

But for every fading star a new star shines, and the campaign opening Monday promises a brilliant cluster up of the Riches and the Hutchinsons and the Salvos and other yet unsung.

And, lest it be overlooked in the maze in intriguing details, there is the little matter of Babe Ruth's home run record. Hank Greenberg came within two of equaling it last year with 58, and he has lost none of his power.

Stoneham Thinks Baton Rouge Is Too Friendly

BATON ROUGE, La., April 15—Reason for the report that the New York Giants will switch their training camp next year is that Owner Horace Stoneham thinks the players are too friendly with the natives. He believes they could train better in a less familiar atmosphere.

Merchants To Play Ionia

If the sun comes out, if the ground drys out, and if ball diamonds at Cole Camp can be put into playing condition, then the Sedalia Merchants and the Ionia baseball club will play an exhibition ball game this afternoon, otherwise another "bad" Sunday will be marked up against practice.

Manager Vincent Siegel put a call for all players to report at the Smoke House at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon and the team will go to Cole Camp to meet Ionia.

So far the club has had very little practice and Siegel is wondering just what material he actually has. It has been very difficult in trying to make elimination of players because of the short practice session.

A great deal depends upon today's game, and it will add more worries to the Sedalia management if the game cannot be played.

Sullivan will start on the mound with Middleton following up, it was announced.

Decoration Day Races All American

Europeans Too Busy With Airplanes To Think Of Auto Races

INDIANAPOLIS, April 15—(AP)—Europe's constantly recurring war scares apparently are going to make the 1939 Indianapolis 500-mile, automobile race "safe for American drivers."

A year ago it appeared European drivers would make a concerted effort to break the grip of the Americans on the speed classic but all indications today pointed to a race in which only American pilots would compete.

"The Europeans seem to be too busy right now with airplanes to become involved with racing," opined T. E. (Pop) Myers, the Indianapolis Speedway general manager.

As recently as a few months ago both Tazio Nuvolari, one of Italy's greatest drivers, and T. A. S. O. Mathieson, an English ace, sent word they would "like to compete" but speedway officials saw only "an outside possibility" they would be here.

The nearest thing to an "international" aspect of the race will be the presence of three foreign-built cars.

One is a new Italian-made Maserati to be driven by Wilbur Shaw of Indianapolis, 1937 winner. Another Maserati will be driven by A. B. (Deacon) Litz of Dubois, Pa. The third foreign car is an Italian Alfa Romeo, to be piloted by Babe Strapp. Rex Mays of Glendale, Calif., drove it in the last two races here, failing to finish either time.

Cunningham In Kansas Relays

Perennial Miler In Special Race With Fenske Of Wisconsin

LAWRENCE, Kas., April 15—(AP)—Defending champions in four events will be among the 1,500 track and field stars expected here next Friday and Saturday for the seventeenth annual University of Kansas relay extravaganza.

Most brilliant is Fred Wolcott of Rice, who never has been beaten outdoors in the 120-yard hurdles. Last year he established a record of :14.2 here. He recently opened the outdoor season by bouncing to a victory in the Texas relays.

Wolcott won the National A. A. U. and national collegiate titles as a sophomore last season and was clocked once in :13.9.

John Collinge of Iowa, the 1938 runner-up, also comes back.

Another record holder to return is Beefus Bryan, the Texas skylrk, who skimmed across the pole vault bar at 13 feet, 9 3-4 inches a year ago. Since that time Bryan has cleared better than 14 feet.

Don Bird, a member of the host team, who vaulted to a Big Six indoor mark is expected to give the Texan his stiffest competition. Northwestern's Ed Thistlewaite owns a 13-foot, 11-inch personal record.

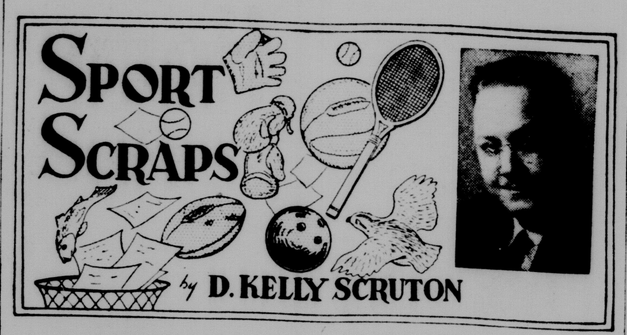

Another Texan, Gilliam Graham, hurled the javelin 212 feet, 5 inches a year ago but this season is consistently near the 219-foot mark.

Elmer Hackney, Kansas State's strong-man, tossed the shot 50 feet, 4 inches for his victory in 1938 and comes to the present meet with a recorded heave of 52 feet, 3 inches. The carnival record is held by Sam Francis of Nebraska, who did 51 feet, 6 inches in 1937.

Wilbur Greer of Michigan State, who won the 100-yard dash at the Texas relays two weeks ago with a :09.5 effort, is one of the three-point winners of 1938 to return. Wolcott and his teammate, E. Y. Steakley, are the others.

Glenn Cunningham, the perennial miler, tangles with Chuch Fenske, former Wisconsin star, in a special mile run and the relay teams from Rice, University of Iowa and the University of Missouri, which monopolized honors in 1938, also will be back.

E. Lee Todd, unattached entrant from Imperial, Neb., is expected to move up from third to first in the decathlon. Dick Kearns of Colorado and Claude Kilday of Occidental, Calif., College, who finished one, two last year, will not return.

IT is too bad that Sedalia has to die a "softball death" this season. But it appears to be headed in that direction. Nothing definite has been said as to why the interest in softball was dropped like a "hot potato."

Sedalia last year had (and boasted of) a good City League. In fact there were eight teams playing. Of this number five or six could be classed as plenty tough competition. While the other two or three were rather weak they displayed plenty of battle and proved interesting to watch.

It was brought out last year that the league should be disbanded because of the high expense in operation of the Liberty Park lights. This is due to the expense of changing the lights every time a softball or a hard ball game was played.

Of course the Park Board will go along with a city league if it is organized as to the expense of the use of the ball diamond. It has done this time and again. Anything to create interest in the park. But may it be suggested the board endeavor to include in its budget a set of softball lights to be used at the park.

The lights now in use at the park are excellent for hard ball, but they have been proven not satisfactory to the use of softball. The cost of placing lights for softball we are told, would not be of a great expense, but would be something very useful. The present light poles could be used. The softball lights could be placed sixty feet up on the poles instead on ninety feet as they are at the present. Two separate switches could be used, thus doing away with the expense of changing the higher lights. Which expense it is said, is very costly.

ONE thing certain is Sedalia will be represented in baseball at least from the spring indications. There will be the Semi-pro Sedalia Merchants who are entering into the National Baseball Congress competition; the American Junior baseball club; and the Missouri Pacific hard ball club which is being planned.

The Boosters club it is understood is endeavoring to enter into a Central Missouri League of which Columbia, Jefferson City, Fulton, Boonville, Slater, and Mexico are expected to be members. This league will be Ban Johnson competition.

In the past two weeks, and due to bad weather conditions the Merchants have had only a few practices. A good semi-pro club is in store for Sedalia., Manager Vincent Siegel says.

A distinction of being the only Sedalian to roll out a perfect score on a Sedalia bowling alley goes to Jimmy Ryan, who recently sent the sphere crashing down the Hotsenpiller alleys for twelve straight strikes and a 300 score.

So excited was Ryan from this game that his next game score dropped well under the 200 mark.

It's a thrill what comes once in a lifetime," Ryan shouted after he completed his 300 game.

C. J. McEniry, who operated a bowling alley in Sedalia for a number of years said it was the first time he had heard of such a score being rolled on any alley in Sedalia. McEniry should know.

The B. P. O. Elks athletic committee, after the wrestling show in which Jack Dempsey acted as referee, (and in which the contestant failed to deliver any action) has decided to continue sponsoring wrestling shows. But not the type as referred to.

This was evident by the decision of Jack L. Jolly, chairman of the committee, who Saturday refused to let be booked back into Sedalia some members of the past wrestling card.

Mr. Jolly said a strict demand of the Athletic Committee to George D. Simpson, promoter, he can stage matches only if he brings wrestlers to Sedalia who will provide plenty of action, and LESS GRUNTING AND GROANING such as was had in the past match.

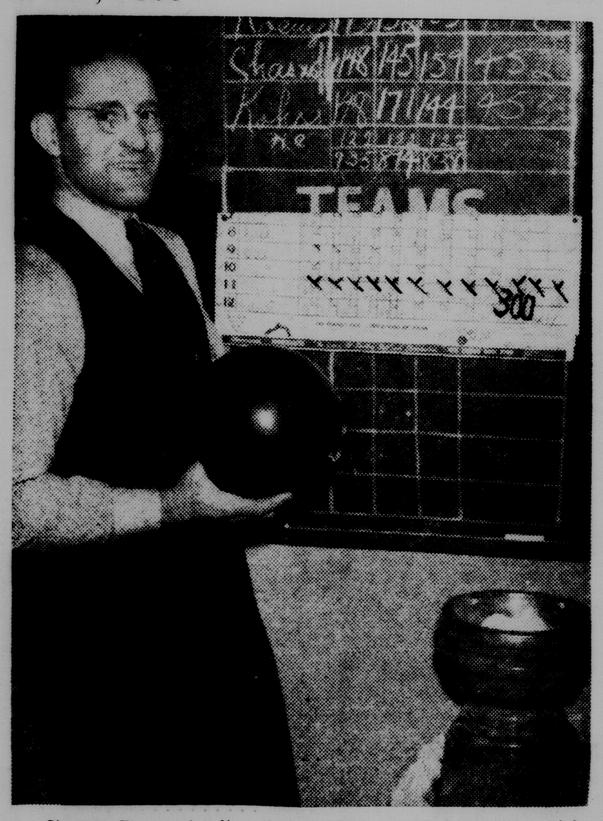

There is no desire for such a show as held when Dempsey was here in the minds of the Elks committee, and the members of the committee demands the fans must be pleased or there will be no more shows.

Adding more stress of better shows, the District Inspector of the Missouri Athletic Commission, has requested of the commission that if a "lay-down" is made, then the gate receipt percentage which goes to the wrestlers will be held up until the contestants can show cause why they should draw any money for their efforts.

Not only are the fans disgusted with the last matches but the sponsore were likewise disgusted, in view of the fact they got their percentage for letting the matches go on.

"We want good clean sports, entertaining sports, and far be it for the Elks Athletic Committee to let be exhibited any more sports under their sponsorship which is not worthy of the admission charged." Mr. Jolly declared.

Oh Man, A 300

Jimmy Ryan standing beside the score sheet on which were tallied his twelve straight strikes which gave him a 300 perfect bowling score, and the first such score ever made in Sedalia. Former bowlers who saw plenty of maple scattered on old alleys in Sedalia all declare it is the only known perfect score ever made here.

Ryan, at the time, was bowling with a representative of the bowling alley company who likewise said "never in my life did I ever see a score made off of the type strikes shot by Ryan."

No Softball League Here

Lack Of Interest Is Cited In Giving Up Softball Competition

To date only one softball team has actually gotten down to the fine point of organization, that being the Rosenthal Clothiers, who will be handled again this season by Roy Edwards, who Saturday issued a call for all softball players to contact him in connection with practice.

Weather permitting two practives each week will be held starting this week for the purpose of taking out the winter "kinks" and to get limbered up. The practice date for this week will be announced by Edwards Monday.

Cecil Higgins, who at first decided to organize the Van Brite Waxers to succeed the Adco Chemists of last year, announced Friday evening he had given up the idea to organize the club for this season. "Too many other duties take up my time at the plant" Higgins gave as his reason.

Nothing has come of the team planned by Glenn White, who was seeking a sponsor several weeks ago. White had planned on gathering together players from disbanded clubs to play out-of-town clubs.

Unless sponsors can be found for various teams which disbanded last fall and desire to reorganize this year, the city league will not be had for this summer.

Edwards reports he has already booked games with the Chillicothe club, St. Joseph team, Brookfield, and is negotiating with teams in Kansas City and St. Louis for games to be played either in Sedalia or on their respective diamonds.

The Clothiers have always had on exceptionally good club and it is hoped they can get such a club together again this year.

A Headache A Suspension

NEW YORK, April 15—(AP)—Rollie Hemsley, Cleveland Indian catcher, was suspended today. Manager Oscar Vitt said his star receiver had broken training again.

Accusing him of "ruining the sleep" of a carload of Tribesmen en route from Richmond, Va., to New York last night, Vitt ordered Hemsley to go to Cleveland and report to Vice-President C. C. Slapnicka. The catcher's contract includes a $5,000 "good conduct bonus."

Asked how he learned of Hemsley's behavior, Vitt exploded:

"How did I learn? Why the guy was right in my berth from midnight to 4 o'clock this morning. Half the time he was abusive and half the time he was crying.

"I tried to straighten him out without awakening everyone on the car. First I tried persuasion. Then I got tough. But nothing made any difference. Oh! What a night! Rollie was kicking cuspidors from one end of the car to the other. Then he started lighting matches and throwing them into the unoccupied upper berths. I didn't close my eyes all night."

The catcher, who was suspended for similar cause twice last year, may rejoin the team Monday and make the trip to St. Louis for Tuesday's opening game against the Browns, Vitt said.

Minnesota Beats Cornhuskers, 62-60

LINCOLN, Neb., April 15—(AP)—Coming from behind to win the final event, the mile relay, the University of Minnesota's track and field squad nosed out the Nebraska Cornhuskers today by a 62 to 60 margin in a closely contested dual meet.

Bob Simmons, Big Six conference 440-yard dash champion paced the Nebraska scoring by winning his favorite event and the low hurdle race, the only competition in which he was entered.

The best performance of the day went to Edsel Wibbels of Nebraska as he sailed the discus out over 148 feet. After the competition was over however, the Cornhusker sophomore added nearly 10 feet to his previous throw.

Coach Ed Weir of Nebraska scratched the javelin event when he learned Minnesota had no entries.

Sooners Golf Squad 'Sinks' Nebraska, 12-6

LINCOLN, Neb., April 15—(AP)—The University of Oklahoma's golf team experienced little difficulty with Nebraska's linksmen today as the Sooners banged out a 12 to 6 win.

Bill Mowbray claimed a major upset of the meet by blanking Billy Craig, Oklahoma's Big Six champion, for Nebraska's only win. Mowbray shot 36-37—73, while Craig fired a 38-38—76.

P. C. A. A. Track Meet Postponed

The annual track meet of the Pettis County Activity Association which was to have been held on the Smith-Cotton high school track Saturday, was postponed because of the heavy rain. The meet is now slated for next Wednesday at Cole Camp.

Officials of the association, which is composed of the high schools from Houstonia, Hughesville, Longwood, La Monte, Green Ridge, Smithton, Cole Camp and Lincoln, said the reason for the change to Cole Camp on Wednesday was due to the local track being in use on the week days.

Cole Camp has a good track and field for such a meet, it was said.

Should weather conditions hinder the meet being staged this Wednesday then it will be postponed until Saturday and will be returned to the Smith-Cotton track.

The annual softball tournament sponsored by the P. C. A. A. will be held at Cole Camp on Saturday, May 6, it was announced this week-end. Teams from all the schools will be entered.

There will be boys teams and girls teams.

Kentucky Derby Books Given Kick

As Favored El Chico Was Beaten First Time At Jamaica

NEW YORK, April 15—(AP)—The Kentucky Derby winter books were given a kick today as the favored El Chico was beaten for the first time and the big bay Johnstown waltzed in with a six-length victory before a crowd of 20,000 which turned out for Jamaica's opening day.

To trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, the little master mind, went the honors on both counts. He saddled the Wheatley stable's Gilded Knight, the colt which handed Chico the first defeat in that little red-head's racing career.

Then, in the featured $7,500 added Paumonok handicap, he sent Johnstown to the post and the Belair stud's long striding hopeful won all by himself.

For both colts it was the first start since their "coming of age," although they ran in different races, both were asked to go six furlongs, Chico in an overnight allowance. As a two-year-old, El Chico, William Ziegler, Jr.'s little chestnut, won seven straight races and $84,100 twice beating Johnstown.

Today things were different for them, however. They were also a lot different for Don Meade, the jockey who was barred from riding for three years because he bet on mounts other than his own, and who returned to the turf this winter by riding 91 winners during the Florida season.

The Jockey club granted him a license to ride in New York only last week and today was his comeback start. He rode in six of the seven races and, although finishing in the money four times, he never got close to the winner's circle.

El Chico was a 1 to 7 favorite at the start. Gilded Knight didn't start his bid until they rounded the far turn, then they battled head to head all the way down to the wire, with the 6-1 shot taking it by a nose in the final strides.

A photo had to decide the thing with Gilded Knight which had been an entry with Sea Captain, winner in 1:11 2-5. Sea Captain took the show spot, four lengths back.

In the Paumonok Johnstown breezed the six furlongs in 1:11 1-5 and returned the favorite's price of 7 to 5, as well as the winner's $6,850 share of the purse to owner William Woodward.

Pagliacci, paired with great Union, paid 7-5 for place and Early Delivery, with Don Mead up, 2-8 1-2 for show. Earl Sande's The Chief was fourth.

M. U. Varsity Defeats Alumni, 6-0, Saturday

COLUMBIA, Mo. April 15—(AP)—Dick Gale, Missouri varsity halfback, slipped around left end 19 yards for a touchdown and victory in the annual varsity-alumni football game today. The score: Varsity 6, Alumni 0.

The game, climaxing six weeks of practice, was played in Alumni territory for the most part, but a wet field and slippery ball held the score down.

Maurice Kirk and Clair Houston, former Tiger captains, played for the grads.

The Central Railway of Peru was constructed between 1871 and 1891, and has 132 tunnels and bridges.

Ray Rayl Continues To Win

Smith-Cotton Tigers Place Third In Two Meets; William Jewell And Chillicothe

Ray Rayl, Smith-Cotton high school track star, ran four races in two days and took four first places to lead the Tigers in placing third in two weekend track meets. The first at William Jewell College, Liberty, and the second at Chillicothe at the Chillicothe Business College meet.

The Chillicothe meet was won by the Clayton, Mo., high school with thirty-seven points; Chillicothe high schcol was second with 26 points and Sedalia's 19 points gave them third place.

In Liberty The St. Joseph Central placed first two points above St. Joseph Benton. Central's score was 51 points and Benton's 49, while Smith-Cotton came through with 24 points.

At Chillicothe Rayl took the mile on a heavy track in 4:43.2 and the 880-yard run in 2:5.7. The latter time being a tie with the track record which has stood for several years.

In the William Jewell mile run, Rayl had a time of 4:47, while his time in the 880-yard run was 2.9.8.

One of the most sensational Medley relays ever to be run on the Chillicothe track was when the Wentworth Military Academy relay team from Lexington, nosed out Coach Jimmy Obermiller's team by six-tenths of a second. The time of the race was 1:40.2, while the Tigers check was 1:40.8.

Tommy Sanders placed third in the 100-yard dash. Logan was third in the 440-yard dash; Ellis was second in the 220-yard dash.

In the 880-yard relay the Tigers placed third.

Smith-Cotton finished at the William Jewell meet other than Rayl's firsts. Medely relay won by Sedalia, 1:42.7. Logan placed second in the 440-yard dash. Sedalia's relay team was fourth in the 880-yard relay which was won by St. Joseph Central; North Kansas City second, and St. Joseph Benton, third.

Sanders placed third in the 100-yard dash. Gudorp was fourth in the 120-yard high hurdle. Foley placed third in the 880-yard dash which was led by Rayl. Ellis was second in the 220-yard dash.

Smith-Cotton's tennis team failed to make any kind of showing at Liberty, being defeated in the first games they participated in.

Coach Obermiller Saturday night said a week's rest was in store for the team with no meets scheduled for next weekend.

Legion Players Are Anxious

A large number of "youngsters" anxious to get going with the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion Junior baseball team, had their spirits dampened Saturday morning by the continuous downpour of rain.

Fred Yeager, who is managing the team for the American Legion, reported he felt the boys, in spite of their desire to practice in the damp weather should "layoff" until next week.

Every boy who has signed application blanks for a try-out will be given a fair and impartial trial in practice. "There is plenty of time before the season will open for the youngsters, "Yeager said", and by the time I am ready for the team to be set for outof-town competition it will be "fair weather."

Commander Robert Henderson of the Legion Post, is delighted with the early reports on the club, and says he feels confident the Sedalia team will make a creditable showing in the district tournaments.

Reminder On Planting Time

Necessary To Work Out Garden Program Soon

Mrs. Marie Buck and Miss Evelyn L. Rogers, home supervisors with the Osage Farm Project and the Farm Security Administration at Hughesville and Sedalia, are reminding FSA borrowers whom they assist in making home management plans that planting time is about here and that the garden program will have to be worked out soon.

"The production of food for the family so that they can make their living off the farm is one of the most important single features in the Resettlement and the FSA rehabilitation program," said Mrs. Buck and Miss Rogers.

The Farm Management Supervisor, county FSA supervisor, and the home supervisors cooperate with all FSA borrowers in working out farm and home management plans. These include considerable emphasis on gardens for the production of vegetables for home use.

"The housewives with whom we deal are encouraged to can at least 80 quarts of vegetables for each member of the family each year," explained Mrs. Buck and Miss Rogers. "Last year Osage families canned 11,049 quarts out of their gardens. This year we have helped prepare a total of 63 garden plans, and Pettis county FSA families canned 28,684 quarts out of their gardens, an increase of an average of 11 quarts per person over what they canned before they came to us. This year we have helped prepare a total of 116 garden plans."

The size of the garden, the preparation of the soil, the kind and the amounts of various garden products, the care of the growing crop are all carefully considered in preparing a garden plan. The purpose is to produce enough of a number of different vegetables and, where possible, fruits, so that the family can have a well balanced diet the year around. It is estimated by the FSA that the cash saving on food amounts to $100 per family.

As part of the home management plan housewives are assisted in learning the best methods of canning garden products and meat. Where necessary, provision is made in the loan for the purchase of a pressure cooker and jars. The home supervisors conduct canning demonstrations for the wives of project homesteaders and the FSA borrowers.

"The important thing," said Mrs. uck and Miss Rogers, is not only that they learn to live more economically but that with little additional effort and much careful planning they live better than they ever did before."

Electricity To Farmers Soon

The eight hundred fifty-six members of the Central Missouri Electric Cooperative, incorporated are assured of electric current in the near future, since the Rural Electricification Administration has approved a loan and completed the loan contract in the amount of $400,000.00 to construct three hundred eighty-five miles of electric line in Pettis and Saline counties, says John M. Sneed, acting superintendent.

G. E. Mull, resident engineer, representing the Donohoe Engineering company of Macomb, Illinois, has driven the system, located the line, and is now in the process of designing the line. As soon as power contracts are secured and the line designed, bids will be secured for the contruction of the line.

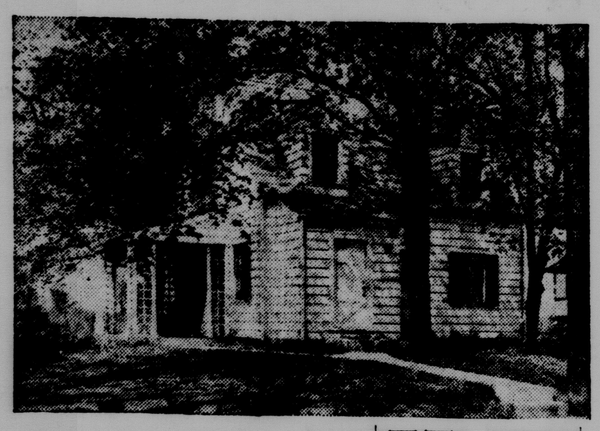

The new electric lines that are soon to be built will serve the people of Saline and Pettis counties for many, many years to come. With our long sought goal close at hand—"Electricity in Farm Homes"—we can not, however, afford to make mistakes. With this in mind, it is important to procede slowly and build carefully.

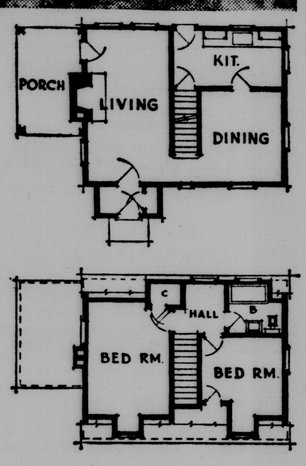

The Rural Electrification Administration is prepared to finance farmstead wiring, lighting and plumbing installations where they cannot be financed locally. Loans are made to REA borrowers, in turn, will finance installation for their members. The borrower then lends individual farmer up to 80 per cent of the cost of the job, with repayment in semi-annual installments spread over a period of five years. The repayments may be scheduled to coincide with the peak period of farm income.

Members of the Cooperative can help materially in speeding up the progress prior to construction. by cooperating with the superintendent in the procurement of right-of-ways on which to build the line.

England has 90,000 letter-boxes including those affixed to walls and lamp posts.

Enhanced by Setting

This attractive conventional home was financed with the aid of a $3,000 mortgage insured by the Federal Housing Administration. The loan was for a term of 19 years and 6 months, with payments to principal and interest amounting to $20.10 a month.

The dwelling is simply and efficiently planned. The placement of the entrance is a departure from the usual and permits daylight illumination of the stairway. The living room boasts of a large ornamental fireplace. The house is situated in Columbus, Ohio.

Youth Loses Life In Blast

ATLANTA, Tex., April 15—(AP)—An explosion which demolished two buildings and damaged many others today fatally injured Claude Hasha, Jr., 16. Seven others were hurt, four seriously.

The blast shattered plate glass windows throughout the business district of the town. Damage was estimated at $40,000.

W. B. Vaughn, manager of the grocery store where the explosion occurred, said indications pointed to the ignition of gas.

Volunteer rescue workers and national guardsmen, who dug through the wreckage throughout the day following the early morning blast, had found no trace of additional victims. C. M. Holt, an employe, escaped injury. Hasha was the only customer injured. The others worked in the store.

Guardsmen under direction of Capt. W. E. Rabb, patrolled the area to keep order and prevent possible looting of stores whose windows had been broken.

W. L. Rice, local manager of the Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Company, said he came down immediately after the explosion.

"No lines were broken in the building. I checked for leaks and could find none under the circumstances prevailing. There was no fire evident," Rice said.

Suit On Note

Clell I. Phipps, et al, filed suit Saturday in the circuit court against Wilbur R. Erms, et al, on a note for $800, alleged due.

Fred Wesner is the attorney for the plaintiffs.

It is world famous, yet few people know the exact area or boundaries of New York's Lower East Side. Officially, it is 1½ miles in area, situated between Brooklyn bridge and Fourteenth street, and runs from the Bowery and Third avenue to the river.

Maid Accused On Charge Of Taking Letters

Those Relative To O'Malley Bought For Publication

WASHINGTON, April 15—(AP)—The police department women's bureau said today a young woman booked as Margaret Braun, was held by the bureau on charges of petty larceny. She was identified by Lambert O'Malley as a former maid in his home.

O'Malley, son of R. E. O'Malley, former Missouri state insurance commissioner, said he swore a warrant for Miss Braun's arrest charging her with taking letters from his home in Washington.

He said Miss Braun had been employed as a maid at his home for about six weeks.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch yesterday published letters which the newspaper said were written by Mrs. R. E. O'Malley to her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert O'Malley. The newspaper said the letters related to events prior to the indictment of R. E. O'Malley and Tom Pendergast on income tax evasion charges.

Letters Were Purchased

ST. LOUIS, April 15—(AP)—The Post-Dispatch related today the circumstances under which it obtained letters written by Mrs. R. Emmet O'Malley of Kansas City, wife of the former Missouri state insurance superintendent, to her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert S. O'Malley of Washington.

In a story from its Washington bureau, the newspaper said Miss Margaret Braun, a housemaid, had been arrested on a warrant charging theft of letters from the Lambert O'Malley home. Young O'Malley, legal consultant of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, swore out the warrant.

The Post-Dispatch said the letters involved were written to Lambert O'Malley last month by his mother and were those it published in a copywrighted story yesterday.

The letters gave intimate details of the anxiety of the elder O'Malley and Boss Tom Pendergast of Kansas City during a federal grand jury investigation which resulted in their indictment on income tax evasion charges.

The Post-Dispatch, in telling of Miss Braun's arrest, said:

"Miss Braun, who was employed in the O'Malley home until recently, obtained the letters from a waste basket. She says she first sent them in a registered packet to United States District Attorney M. M. Milligan, in charge of the Pendergast prosecutions in Kansas City, and they were returned to her unopened.

"She next submitted copies of some of the letters to a government investigation agency. Subsequently the letters were offered to the Post-Dispatch for sale and were purchased for publication yesterday in the public interest.

"Photostatic copies of the letters are in possession of the government x x x."

Pendergast and the elder O'Malley were indicted April 7 on charges of having failed to pay taxes on money alleged to have been received in connection with the compromise in 1935 of litigation over Missouri fire insurance rates.

• Obituary

Mrs. Mary Margaret Rodenbach

Mrs. Mary Margaret Rodenbach, nee Mertgen, was born on August 4, 1849. Her parents were Conrad and Mary Mertgen, with whom she came to America from Jahrsfeld, Germany, in 1854. They settled on the "old home place," south of Florence.

After having been instructed in religion, she was confirmed at the age of 14, by the Reverend John C. Feil, St. John's Evangelical church, of Florence, Mo. On May 4, 1868, she was married to John Christian Rodenbach, and this union was blessed with five children. Her husband preceded her in death, departing this life in 1911. After his death she lived for a while with her son, Henry Rodenbach and then later lived with her daughter, Katherine Wagenknecht, of Florence, Mo. It was with her she spent the last years of her life. She was always ready to serve her church. She was for years a member of the Women's Union, doing her part when called upon.

After a long illness, following a stroke, being confined to her bed for a year, she departed this life on April 13, 1939, at 9 o'clock. Her age was 89 years, 8 months and 9 days. She leaves one sister, Mrs. Lena Richardson, Florence, Mo.; five children, Mrs. Katherine Wagenknecht, Florence, Mo.; Mr. Conrad Rodenbach, Sedalia, Mo.; Mr. Henry Rodenbach, Florence, Mo.; Mrs. Lula Bremer, Florence, Mo.; Ida Smith, Smithton, Mo.; sixteen grandchildren and sixteen great grandchildren, as well as a host of friends from near and far.

"Grandma" Rodenbach, as her friends knew her, they declare, was a lovable, cheerful, kind Christian woman.

Funeral services were held in the St. John's Evangelical church, of Florence, Mo., on April 16, 1939, the Rev. R. O. Walkenhorst officiating.

Harry M. Provo

The funeral of Harry M. Provo, 62, who died Friday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thelma Larsen, 512 Wilkerson street, following a lingering illness, will be held at Madison, Kas., Sunday.

He was preceded in death five years ago by his wife, Mrs. Mary E. Provo and since that time has lived with his daugnter here.

Survivors are, three brothers, George Provo, Parsons, Kas., Ray Provo, Madison, Kas,, and Roy Provo, Wennatchee, Wash.; four sisters, Mrs. Olive Rockley, Madison, Kas; Mrs. Elsie Milner, Long Beach, Calif., Mrs. Hazel Grimsley, Parsons, Kas. and Mrs. Pearl Rockley, Eureka, Kas.

The body was taken to the Ewing Funeral Home and was sent to Kansas Saturday evening.

Market Place Be Established By Ordinance

Provisions Of Measure To Be Up To Council

An ordinance governing a public market place in the city, and creating the office of city weighmaster, read for the first time December 19, 1938, and tabled until the completion of the city's new scale house, will be presented for final action at the city council's meeting Monday night.

The ordinance provides:

That a public market place be established at the southeast corner of Second and Kentucky, under the supervision and control of the public buildings and grounds committee, the city weighmaster to act under the direction of the mayor and council.

The weighmaster shall keep the place clean and in a sanitary condition, enforce all necessary rules and regulations to be kept by the persons using the market place.

The market place shall be for the exclusive use of farmers and producers selling products raised by him and produced by him and produced by his manual labor, from a cart, wagon or other vehicle, or a drayman permitted to sell from the market, after they have complied with the regulations.

No person having any kind of produce, hay, grain, fruit or fuel for sale from wagons, truck or other vehicles, shall allow such vehicles to stand on the street for a greater period than twenty minutes, unless loading or unloading.

No person shall set up, erect or maintain any stand, table or rack to sell wares or merchandise in or upon any street, or to sell from any such place.

Every vehicle parked on the public market place lot shall be assigned a space by the weighmaster for a fee of 25 cents per day, or $5 a month, no vehicle parked by the day to leave the lot and return the same day without again paying the fee.

No person other than a farmer or producer shall park on that square.

The ordinance states that the city weighmaster shall be appointed by the mayor and council for a period of one year receiving salary of $50 per month, and sets forth his specific duties, as well as the fees to be charged at the scales.

Bookies Eat Betting Sheets To Foil Raiders

HAVERHILL, Mass., April 15—(AP)—A new departure in "gulpers" has been discovered by police—bookies who eat betting sheets to foil raiders' efforts to obtain evidence.

Patrolman Emmett E. Prince told a district court judge during trial of Arthur M. Legacy, charged with booking bets on horse races, that the sheets were made of a new type paper which caused no ill effects when swallowed. Legacy was fined $100.

Find Deaths Due Murder And Suicide

FAIRBAULT, Minn., April 16—(AP)—State bureau of criminal apprehension operatives and Rice county authorities tonight agreed the death of five aged members of the wealthy Goffrier family, found shot to death on their farm near here today, was a case of murder and suicide.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Francis Weir of Fairbault, who investigated, said it was evident Charles Goffrier, 70, shot his two sisters, Augusta, 80, and Mary, 65, and two brothers, William, 78, and August, 67, as they slept in their beds on the second floor of the home and then killed himself.

Charles had been in ill health for some time, the deputy said.

Press Groups Meet In May At Columbia

Nine Of Them To Be There Week Of Journalism

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 15—(AP)—Nine journalism organizations will hold meetings on the University of Missouri campus during the 30th annual journalism week here, May 9 through 13, Dean Frank L. Martin announced today.

O. K. Armstrong, Springfield, president of the Missouri Writers' Guild, will preside at the first day's program, which has been prepared by the guild. The day will be devoted to the guild's meetings.

Speakers on the program include Wayne A. Lindsey, Kansas City, vice-president of the guild; Carl B. Ike, West Plains; May Traller, Everton; Lulu W. Gillum, Kansas City; Homer Croy, formerly of Maryville, now a New York author; Prof. Jeromiah B. Reeves, Westminster College, Fulton; Lucille Morris Upton, Springfield, and May Stafford Hilburn, Jefferson City.

Other organizations meeting during the week are Missouri Press Association, Missouri Associated Dailies, Missouri Women's Press Club, Missouri Members of the Associated Press, Missouri United Press, Past Presidents' Association of the Missouri Press Association, Missouri Interscholastic Press Association and the Journalism Alumni Association of the University of Missouri.

James Todd, president of the Missouri Press Association and editor of the Moberly Monitor-Index, will speak Wednesday. Others on the program include Wilber A. Cochel, editor of The Weekly Kansas City Star; George E. Durno, International News Service, Washington, D. C.; Joe Alex Morris, United Press, New York; and Art Whitman, St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Past Presidents' Association of the Missouri Press Association will have a dinner Wednesday night as guests of Wallace Crossley of Warrensburg.

Francis Douglas, city editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat; Henry Ness, Kansas City, and Harold Peters, United Press, are scheduled to speak Thursday morning.

The Missouri Associated Dailies will have a luncheon at noon.

Presentation of medals of honor by the School of Journalism for distinguished service to journalism, will highlight the afternoon's program.

The Missouri Press Association will have its semi-annual meeting Friday morning. H. E. Guth, editor of the Perry County Republican at Perryville, is one of the Friday speakers.

The afternoon speakers include Robert L. Coe, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and Miss Nell Snead, editor women's page of the Kansas City Star.

The Missouri Women's Press Club will meet Friday afternoon with Mrs. B. L. Bless of the Weston Chronicle, presiding.

The Springfield Chamber of Commerce will send food and favors for the journalism banquet Friday night, theme of which is "Missouri Ozarks."

Colonel Bladimir Hurban, former newspaper publisher and until recently minister from Czechoslovakia in Washington, has been invited to speak at the banquet. Other speakers are E. K. Bixby, of the Springfield Newspapers, Inc., Gov. Lloyd C. Stark, President Frederick A. Middlebush and Isaac F. Marcosson, author.

Officers Elected By Prairie Ridge PTA

The regular monthly meeting of the Prairie Ridge PTA met Wednesday night, April 12.

The meeting was opened by the singing of "There's Music in the Air."

Loretta Hayes gave a reading, "Smiles" for the devotional.

The following officers were elected for next year:

President, Mrs. Edgar Reid; vice president, Mrs. Harry Tevis; secretary, Miss Lena Scarbrough; treasurer, Mr. Wilburn Hayes.

A reading, "Oh These Weddings" was given by Wilma Faye Yokley.

"Mexicalli Rose" was sung by Mesdames Edgar Reid, Ina Cummings, Leona Scouten, and Misses Wilma Faye Yokley and Anna Mae Yokley, with Miss Margie Dean Reid accompanying at the piano.

The refreshment committee served jello with whipped cream and cake.

Birth Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ringen, of 1219 East Eleventh street, are parents of a daughter born Friday, April 14. Mrs. Ringen was formerly Miss Bernice Martin.

The name Janice Faye has been given the new arrival.

Homemakers In All Day Meeting

The Vanatta Hohemakers held their regular all day meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Woodrow Smith with nine members present and Mrs. Bobby Brown, Mrs. Ernest Folley, Mrs. Charles Fisher and sons as visitors.

Mrs. Harrison De Jarnette gave a very interesting discussion on "Yard Improvement." Mrs. De Jarnette's yard was chosen to be demonstrated and improved for a period of three years. Mrs. Roy Alexander was selected to demonstrate her kitchen; Mrs. Wesley Harding to demonstrate canning and Mrs. Dewey Geiser as garden demonstrator.

Mrs. Claire Montgomery gave a very beneficial discussion on "New Ideas About Everyday Meals" and also gave very valuable information on "Garden Planting" stating she never realized it was possible to grow twenty-five varieties of vegetables in our gardens.

Mrs. Harrison De Jarnette was appointed to represent the Extension club with Farm Bureau.

After the business was completed the meeting was turned over to Mrs. George H. Gorrell for the singing of the club song, "There's Music in the Air."

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Roy Alexander on May 10, with Mrs. Woodrow Smith as project leader. The project to be discusseed is "Understanding and Fitting Patterns for Today's Styles.

Modify Vote Fraud Terms

KANSAS CITY, April 15—(AP)—Vote fraud sentences against five persons convicted a year ago were modified today by Judge Albert L. Reeves in federal court.

Appeals had been filed by the five, but were dismissed by attorneys for the defendants after the court announced modifications in sentences would be made if the appeals were not pressed.

All five pleaded guilty.

The modifications ordered by Judge Reeves:

William J. McMahon, Democratic precinct captain, and Leo Gilliam, policeman, sentences of three years in prison and $1,000 fine modified to one year and a day prison, and $1,000 fine.

Morris Stephens, Democratic election judge, sentence of 18 months in a reformatory and $250 fine, modified to six months in jail.

J. P. Bailey, Republican clerk, sentence of six months in jail and $250 fine modified to probation on the jail sentence and affirmation of the $250 fine.

Mrs. Grace B. Clark, Democratic election clerk, sentence of three months in jail and $100 fine modified to probation of the jail sentence and affirmation of the $100 fine.

Today's action cleared the fereal court dockets of all vote fraud cases.

Less than 30 minutes after Judge Reeves had acted in the five cases, McMahon and Gilliam were on their way to the Leavenworth, Kas., federal prison to serve their sentences.

Lindy Arrives In America

NEW YORK, April 15.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived here last night on the liner Aquitania on his first visit to his American homeland in more than a year. His cabin was locked against a curious throng, with police standing guard outside, as the ship docked.

The Aquitania was met down the bay by three coast guard cutters, one of which carried a detachment of treasury and secret service agents, who went immediately to Lindbergh's quarters.

Agents of the line who went to the flier's cabin after the ship had arrived at the pier reported he wished to keep his customary silence, and had no statement to make concerning his plans while here.

Good Will Tour Be On April 18

The date for the "Good-Will Tour" of the Missouri Pacific Supervisors' Club to Warsaw, Mo., has been changed from Monday evening, April 17th, to Tuesday evening, April 18th.

The members of the Warsaw Chamber of Commerce and their wives have been invited to be the special guests of the Supervisors and their wives.

Dinner, consisting of baked chicken and all that goes with it will be served at 7 p. m. in the Methodist church of Warsaw and will be followed by a program, the highlights of which will be short talks by L. J. Parsons, president of the Warsaw Chamber of Commerce, Dr. J. A. Logan of Warsaw, F. T. Mahoney, division superintendent for the Missouri Pacific Railroad, P. R. Nichols, chief boosters of the Sedalia Booster Club, and L. L. Studer, president of the Supervisors' Club.

These talks will be interspersed with community singing and entertainment by Scotty and Jerry, two six-year-old violinists, who have been heard from radio stations in Springfield and Kansas City, Jimmie. a five-year-old singing cowboy, and H. Tharp, vocalist, all of Warsaw. Then, there will be a reading by Mrs. E. White and a whistling solo by Mrs. Joe Thomas, both of Sedalia.

L. L. Studer, president of the Missouri Pacific Supervisors' club, will preside, G. T. Callender, shop superintendent, will be toastmaster, and E. W. Kettleson, relay shop foreman and chairman of the entertainment committee, has been in charge of arranging the program.

France governs 366 of every 1000 square miles in Africa today. Great Britain is second with 348, and Belgium third with 81.

Propaganda Blizzard of 1915 Just a Flurry

The United States might just as well start digging in right now against a blizzard of foreign propaganda which will make the snowstorm of 1914-1917 look like a light flurry.

It has already begun, of course. It has really never let up since the days of the World War. But now, with Europe squaring off for another of those things, no effort will be spared to line up the United States, as far as possible, even before the shooting begins.

As in the early days of the World War, the German effort, seeing no hope of American active support, is concentrating on keeping the United States neutral. Now, as in 1915, this forces all Americans who want peace, or at least neutrality, into the position of being "pro-German"—to their frequent discomfort.

* * *

American societies of German-born groups, such as the Bund, are harping on the "keep-out" theme just as such societies did in World War years.

Japan has a well-financed "Good-will Institute" in New York.

Fascist Italy is represented by a well-known American public relations firm.

England works much in the same manner as in 1914-1917. Lecturers, articles by famous literary figures are flooding America. In the World War days these were all well-organized by the British propaganda service. Whether they are today is not yet clear.

* * *

"Responsible Americans" are receiving offers to subscribe to a "cold facts" international review issued by a group in the British Parliament. This appeals to vanity and exclusiveness, just as a similar Communist-inspired review in England and circulated to a "select group," has caused many Americans to glow with the feeling that they were receiving "the real inside stuff."

Of course, the American Communist Party vocally represents the point of view of the Russian foreign office, and seeks to line up American opinion in tune with those interests.

* * *

Now little can be done about all this. For the right to propagandize is so closely linked up with the right of freedom of speech, press, and assembly that it is very difficult and probably not desirable to halt the flood.

America's best hope lies in the fact that we know a little more about propaganda than we did 20 years ago. The World War technique has been well exposed. There will be new dodges, of course.

Every person who reads, every person who looks at pictures, every person who listens to speeches will do well to accept nothing without weighing it.

What is the source? What ax have they to grind? Exactly how does this affect the United States?

Those are the questions we should be asking again and again during the coming months.

Now that the 1939 Easter parade is a memory, the women can go back to their winter coats and be comfortable for the next few Sundays.

* * *

Great Britain asked Italy's intentions in Albania. Well, it started off with a shotgun wedding.

Flordia's treasury announces the largest cash balance in two years. Looks like the California report will be red.

10 Million Homely Women

The time was, and not so long ago, when movie actresses were a pretty dull lot. An occasional juicy scandal, yes, but snappy quirks and quips, no.

Happily all that is past. With the new sophistication that has come to the movies during the past 10 years, there has come also a new type of movie actress, witty and sometimes learned, to say nothing of socially conscious. This is dandy.

But for light-minded whimsy, Loretta Young has now taken the cake and a couple of blueberry pies to boot. She proposes that now that the government is doing everything for everybody, it ought to make beauty treatments available to all women.

"I honestly believe," says the elfish Miss Young, who is as beautiful as anything, and ought to know, "that the turning of 10,000,000 homely women into beauties is a lot more important to the well-being of this country than the building of one medium-sized battleship. And it wouldn't cost as much."

Mebbe so, Loretta, but what congressman is going to take his political future in his hands by first admitting that the country's GOT 10,000,000 homely women?

Is This Accidental?

The United States, Dr. Haven Emerson believes, will establish for 1938 an all-time low record for death rates from all causes.

Dr. Emerson is a public health authority with Columbia University. He deliberately concludes:

"We are now in fact the possessors of better general health, are less afflicted with diseases known to be preventable, are more secure in the survival and growth of our off-spring to maturity, and have an average expectancy of live greater than that of any population group in the history of man."

There are lots of things wrong with the United States. But there are also some things right with it. This magnificent health achievement is one of them.

Is it luck, accident? We don't think it is. With less regimentation than any other countries with poorer records, we believe the United States has achieved this record simply because as a democratic republic it is first concerned with the welfare of its individual citizens. Not its citizens in the mass, or its citizens as cannon-fodder, but its citizens as individuals entitled to life and all the health and joy they can find in it.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

(Editor's Note—The Brass Ring and a free ride on The Washington Merry-Go-Round is enjoyed this week by Edward J. Noble and the other members of 8-months-old Civil Aeronautics Authority.)

WASHINGTON—The record of New Deal agencies is like the fever chart of a malaria patient. They go up and down. Some, such as the SEC, Social Security Board and Federal Housing Administration, have been a credit to good government. Others, like TVA, the Bituminous Coal and Federal Communications Commissions, have been bedlams of dissension or incompetence.

The "baby" among these agencies is the Civil Aeronautics Authority, which during its brief eight months already has chalked up a record on the credit side of the ledger.

The five-man board and Administrator have worked together harmoniously and have won the respect of both the industry and Congress—no small feat in these days of super-alertness to New Deal shortcomings. The CAA's record is outstanding because it not only had to undo five years of bungling under the old Bureau of Air Commerce, but had to pioneer in a new field which unexpectedly opened before it.

Chief purpose behind the enactment of the Civil Aeronautics Act last June was to end the turmoil of the Air Commerce Bureau under Dan Roper. Congress had no thought of launching vast air defense and training program.

But hardly was the CAA born when Munich, Hitler and Mussolini changed the entire aviation picture. Overnight the CAA was given the job of preparing a plan to train 20,000 new pilots a year. More recently it has been given the job of meeting Nazi air penetration in South America and of developing an adequate supply of aviation mechanics.

That the CAA has been able to meet these responsibilities, while at the same time bringing stability to commercial air transportation, is due to the high caliber of its members. There have been minor kinks to unsnarl, but they have been worked out promptly and the board has operated on a high level of efficiency.

Businessman Chairman

Much of this is due to Edward J. Noble, rosy-cheeked Republican chairman, who has just been elected to be Harry Hopkins' assistant, and who during his 56 years was chiefly famous for developing a nationwide candy mint business ("Life Savers") from a plant that consisted of a kitchen stove plus pots and pans.

Noble is one highly successful business man who believes that government regulation is good for business. He has had almost no experience in aviation, except in private flying, but he has vision, drive and practical idealism.

Noble is idolized by CAA employees. Kindly and accessible, he takes a personal interest in the staff, loves to distribute packages of his mints. Few callers leave without a handful. One visitor remarked that his 3-year-old daughter was one of Noble's best customers. Noble dilightedly brought out a whole cartoon of the candy. "When she finishes these," he said, "let me know and I'll send her some more."

Noble's outstanding work on the CAA is deeply appreciated by the White House, and if certain plans under consideration work out he is slated for new honors.

Vice Chairman

Vice Chairman Harllee Branch, one-time newspaper correspondent and Assistant Postmaster General, is the airmail specialist on the board. Born in North Carolina 59 years ago, he got his start in newspapering as a journeyman printer and his extensive knowledge of airmail as one of Jim Farley's lieutenants.

Branch is a hard and conscientious worker and his commonsense judgment and experience is relied upon by his colleagues.

Board Members

Robert H. Hinckley is another successful businessman who entered the government service because of admiration for Roosevelt. A prominent Utah auto dealer, Hinckley was persuaded to assist in getting the first relief program under way on the understanding that he would stay in Washington only three months. He remained five years, becoming western WPA Director and one of Harry Hopkins' most trusted lieutenants.

Hinckley organized and directed the Utah-Pacific Airways, one of the pioneer commercial lines of the West. Genial, popular and hard-working, he has the condidence of the White House and of leaders of both parties on Capital Hill. He directed the launching of the pilot training program and is one of the assets of CAA. With Nobles promotion Hickley will become chairman of the authority.

G. Grant Mason, 35, youngest and handsomest member of the board, is a specialist on foreign aviation through his experience as an executive of Pan-America Airways, having pioneered that company's expansion into South America. Mason was born in Mason City, Iowa, and named after his grandfather, a famous railroad builder. He is a talented cartoonist and the husband of the former Jane Kendall, whom Mrs. Coolidge once described as the most beautiful debutante ever to enter the White House.

Ryan vs. Hester

Oswald Ryan is the lawyer member of the Authority. A Republican, he won his spurs in the New Deal by his record as general counsel of the Power Commission. Ryan was orphaned at the age of 12 years and at 14 became the youngest telegraph operator on the Big Four Railroad in Indiana. He worked his way through school, got a scholarship at Harvard where he tutored the son of Maharajah of Gaikwar, fabulously wealthy Indian prince. In 1926, Ryan was an unsuccessful anti-Klan candidate for the Senate.

A stickler on strict observance of the law, Ryan has had some clashes with Clinton M. Hester, CAA Administrator. An overseas doughboy and college football player Hester is inclined to be ebulliently high handed. Differences between the two men have not been serious, but Hester has been privately counseled by board members to pull in his horns and tone down his "partying" with airline executives.

Like Ryan, Hester worked his way through law school. Shortly after graduating he entered government service as an attorney in the office of the Alien Property Custodian, later transferring to the Justice Department where his work won steady promotion. In 1927 he was made a Special Assistant Attorney General and several years later chief attorney with the Solicitor General. When appointed CAA Administrator, he was Assistant General Counsel of the Treasury.

BORDER ADVENTURE

BY OREN ARNOLD

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CHAPTER I

THE cold, forbidding aspect of the gray stone police headquarters in El Paso, Texas, suddenly was intensified by contrast as trim Betty Mary Jordan walked in.

Technically, Betty Mary was an efficiency expert from Washington, sent out with an official reprimand for Inspectors Starr and Kildare of the U. S. Border Patrol. She didn't look it. She was a dainty person whose left dimple flashed at the slightest provocation. Her hair was the color of brass. Her eyes china-blue. They, and her height, suggested that Betty Mary ought to be somewhere skipping rope or, at most, preparing for a junior prom.

Nevertheless, her lips were set in what she fully believed was a firm, purposeful line. She was still stinging a little from the challenge thrown at her by big Sheridan Lanford Starr, and echoed—at least by a nod—from his close friend and fellow officer, Hope Kildare. She was also trembling a little, inwardly, at her own temerity in accepting their challenge.

* * *

"IF you think Luis Barro is so easy to catch," Sherry Starr had rumbled, indignantly, "then—then—why don't you help catch him yourself? You're an efficiency expert. At least Washington said they were sending one out!"

He had blurted it much as a college boy would blurt something at a co-ed with whom he was quarreling. And Miss Jordan had answered in kind.

"All right, maybe I will!" she had snapped. "Efficiency is simply getting a hard job done promptly. You two men have been trying for a year. And Luis Barro is still called the Smuggler King of the Mexican Border. Only a few nights ago he sent over a dozen aliens and a shipment of narcotics, while you hid peacefully in the flags 10 miles down the river!"

"We had a false tip!" Hope put in, pleadingly, watching her blue eyes.

"It's your business to get accurate information before acting," she declared. "Isn't it, now?"

One word had led to another. Talk, talk, talk; details, details. When Officers Kildare and Starr had dutifully reported their failure again to capture Luis Barro, worst of all border smugglers, an extremely busy department chief in Washington had sent his efficient secretary out for a first-hand report. (She had carried out more than one assignment like this!) And the officers had dared her to demonstrate her efficiency!

They had dared her impulsively, as boys would, hence they were alarmed when she accepted. There had been a new prisoner in the city jail, named Salazar, in whose pockets had been some cocaine wrapped much like Luis Barro wrapped his. Was he Luis Barro's man?

* * *

SHE had left Messrs. Starr and Kildare looking as dejected as normally happy young officers could possibly look. She would go see the prisoner Salazar herself. Any lead—any kind of lead whatsoever—might be the one tip which would result in capture of Luis Barro! "You must use brains, gentlemen, as well as brawn, in combatting criminals! We are not afraid of Luis Barro! I—I will go see this Salazar myself, since you dare me to do something!"

She had talked much more than good judgment dictated, she realized now, but she had to go on. She hesitated just a moment outside the gray police station, then went boldly in.

They had dared her impulsively, and Betty Mary, pointing across the border to Mexico and the defiance of its No. 1 smuggler, accepted the challenge.

"Sure, you can see him!" the police chief told her when she had presented her credentials. "Anything the federal boys want. You on the Border Patrol now, miss?"

"Just briefly, and unofficially," Betty Mary dimpled at him, and that was entree enough. "I don't want him to see me."

Salazar sat for 10 minutes with two detectives in an inner office. They questioned him in Spanish but learned nothing, while Betty Mary peeked at him unobserved. She noted every minute detail, mentally photographing him.

Next she asked the jailer to show her the man's personal effects—knife, gun, coins, handkerchief, packaged narcotics, all the things found in his clothing.

"What would he be doing with a cartridge like this?" she asked, casually thumbing it. "This doesn't fit his gun. This cartridge is a .22 long rifle."

"Dunno," said the jailer. "Found one like it on another Mexican arrested last month. And some peon boys had one in their pockets. Rabbit hunters, I guess."

"Interesting," murmured Betty Mary, and stared at the thing a long time. It was dirty, and greasy, but seemingly unimpressive.

She conferred then with the police chief again, in private. He told her a great many things. The chief was a man of 60 with daughters of his own. He even showed her photos of his grandchildren, discussing them proudly. When she left he had agreed to a detailed plan. In the alley back of her hotel at 3 a. m.? "Exactly, ma'am; call on me for anything, miss." She thanked him and went away.

* * *

MEANWHILE, Inspectors Starr and Kildare of the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service—young teammates in the service who had chosen this most fascinating (but dangerous) work for their careers—were anything but comfortable. After Betty Mary left them they talked earnestly in a welter of mutual sympathy, then left the conference room to stride down the street, friends side by side as they had been since high school days. Gloom enveloped them because Luis Barro had indeed brought a peculiar genius into his smuggling operations, was heightened now because a woman—a girl!—had been sent out to discipline them. They had not taken seriously her promise to help catch Barro.

"She has gone on back to her hotel, I reckon," Sheridan Starr said. "Prob'ly whistle us up again tonight."

"Yeamp," Hope Kildare agreed. "What say we go back, drive down and pump this prisoner, Salazar?"

"Okay."

They lingered at their office for an hour, first, however, studying Salazar's fingerprint record, and mapping a new course of action which might trap Luis Barro. But they weren't satisfied with any plan they could evolve. Two older officers came in and conferred with them at length, so that it was late afternoon when they finally took a government car and drove to the city police headquarters.

"We want to see this Salazar you got on a dope charge," Starr requested.

The desk sergeant himself got keys from the jailer and led them back to a cell.

"That's him," the sergeant said, pointing. "But—uh, we was a little crowded, and had to put old granny in with him for a few hours. You wanta talk to him alone?"

"No, thanks, just want to be acquainted. Howdy, Salazar."

"Buenos dias, senores."

"Howdy, granny, what you in for? You hittin' the dope, too?"

Starr was looking closely at Salazar, but Kildare stared at the woman. She appeared quite old; a faded Mexican in a black skirt, and a black shawl that came up over her head to be pinned under her chin, then draped down over narrow stooped shoulders, a common type. Her face looked pale in the gloom of the jail cell.

"No, senor, only a little," she whined, and sobbed a bit, bowing so that only her forehead was seen. Starr was ignoring her, intent on the man. But Hope Kildare's mouth dropped open.

Hope's keen ears had detected what his eyes had missed! Behind the man Salazar, the poor old woman eyed Hope for an instant, then slowly shook her head.

Again Sponsor Chick Project

Recognizing the importance of 4-H club work to Pettis county boys and girls, Swift and Company is repeating the 4-H Club Baby Chick Project similar to that of last.

With graded buying of poultry, eggs and cream becoming more widesperad each year, producers of these products are recognizing the necessity of producing better quality products to qualify for the premium prices paid for top produce. And through this project, Swift and Company in cooperation with the county extension department are striving to assist boys and girls to correctly and profitably raise poultry so that their products will bring the top market prices. Such projects will assist in bringing greater recognition in eastern markets for Pettis county poultry and eggs.

One hundred and forty-three boys and girls have received baby chicks from Swift's hatchery, and these will be raised to maturity. Sometime in October Swift and Company will sponsor a poultry show at which time individual winners will receive medal and ribbons, and the 4-H club group doing the best all around job will receive a loving cup. Baby chicks at that time, will be paid for with the return of poultry.

First place winners last year were Donald Decker, Sedalia, Donald Lacey, Windsor, Barbara Crole, LaMonte. Winner of the best essay was Margaret Sperber, Sedalia. The Dresden 4-H club group, supervised by George Fichter, won the loving cup for best all around work.

Raising of poultry is supervised by J. U. Morris, county agent, E. Winner, assistant county agent, and Arden Mowrer, Swift's hatcheryman. Periodical meetings are held by each community group at which time poultry raising practices are discussed. The discussions are assisted by the presence of one or more of the above men.

• Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Should one make a practice of being late to church?
2. When a seat fee is taken at the door of a church, should the man pay for himself and the women with him?
3. Does a woman who is attending church with a man make her own contribution to the collection?
4. When an usher in a church leads the way to seats, does the woman precede or follow the man?
5. When a man and woman are finding seats for themselves in a church, does the woman go first?

What would you do if—

You are seized with a fit of coughing during a church sermon

(a) Tiptoe quietly out of the church, until you get over coughing?

(b) Stay where you are?

(c) Try to smother the noise with your handkerchief?

Answers

1. No. It is disturbing to others.
2. Yes.
3. Yes.
4. She precedes him.
5. No, the man. But he steps aside and lets her enter the pew first.

Best "What Would You Do" solution—(a) is usually more considerate, unless you have to disturb a lot of people by moving. Then (c) might be better.

Physicians Use Special Diet To Combat Meniere's Disease

Sometimes, as people get older, they develop a combination of symptoms now known as Meniere's Disease because a Frenchman with that name first described the condition scientifically in 1861.

In this condition the chief disturbances consist of deafness and ringing in the ears associated with dizziness, vomiting, and sudden side to side movements of the eyes. From time to time it has been thought that the chief responsibility was in the internal ear, but it has not been possible to locate a definite change consistently in any considerable number of cases.

A few years ago a physician who was investigating this disease concluded that dizziness was a common symptom of many diseases in which the water balance of the body is at fault.

Then it was discovered that a Danish investigator had reported successful treatment of a good many cases of this condition by eliminating water from his patients in large amounts and giving them at the same time a low salt diet.

* * *

Since that time many patients in this country have been treated for this disease by various modifications of the diet, according to this conception of the way in which the symptoms occur.

Obviously, it is neither desirable nor possible for any one to try to diagnose or treat a condition of this kind for himself. In the first place, the occurrence of any one or two of these symptoms does not mean a diagnosis of Meniere's disease.

Furthermore, it is necessary to make a real study of the hearing to make certain of the degree of deafness, which must be present in addition to the possible attacks of vertigo or dizziness and the vomiting. Then the ringing in the ears frequently occurs in many people as a separate symptom associated with changes in the circulation, with high blood pressure and with other disorders.

Thus, it is necessary for the physician to study the complete patient in relationship to the occurrence of the symptoms and the time of their occurrence. Then he can make the decision.

* * *

Next the diet that is to be tried must also be under the control of the physician. In addition to the feature which requires that it be low in salt, the patient must be given a fairly large amount of ammonium chloride because it is the sodium in the salt, or the sodium chloride, which is to be eliminated.

The diet must avoid foods that are prepared with large amounts of salt or those that naturally contain a great deal of sodium, or drugs of which sodium may be one of the constituents.

Already enough patients have been treated along these lines to indicate that in a considerable number of the cases this method of treatment has merit. For others, one of the leading nerve surgeons of America has suggested an operative procedure which often gives benefit.

• Raising a Family

At 17, Girls' Main Goals Are a Man, and Fame

The girl of seventeen strays more from a central type than the boy of the same age. She has, in common with her sisters, the same fears and hopes, the same dreams and ambitions, but beyond that she is individual.

The male is more compact and answers usually to the same calls. The woman is more adaptable to change. She has had to conform through the ages to so many vicissitudes of living and status, that she holds herself ready for anything.

She is individual, for she dare not cling to type. The man, deprived of his sign posts and wheel tracks, cannot invent new roads, always. The woman can because eternally she has had to.

It is necessary, then, in analyzing the seventeen-year-old girl, to mention her common problems. Her inner life is her own. She will cling to this right fiercely, so let us respect it.

Desires Attractiveness

First of all, she wants to be pretty and popular. This is not silly. Attractiveness is the means to that attention upon which her success in future mating has always depended. Fortunately, today we have substituted "smartness" for beauty, and she can create a beauty of her own.

So far so good, but popularity depends on other things, too. She is supposed to have that certain something that attracts. Without it she cannot travel the Glory road. For girls, as well as boys of this age, build their air castles of conquest.

What these air castles are is not mere guess, for there are two things that express the ambition of the girls of today. One is to capture eventually the heart of a strong man and marry at the right time; the other to become famous. Perhaps both.

So the seventeener has her dream life that parallels her studies and sports. She is supposed to have personality, poise, a sunny temper and—oh, how we need a word for it—"it" or "umph." No one can give her the recipe because there is none. She either has it, tries for it or fails. At the same time, she must keep her self-respect and avoid the appearance of contriving.

There's Competition, Too

She has other girls to reckon with, too, many of them ruthless and cruel. Competition is open all year for this place in the sun. The fair-and-square ones get trampled under so often, yet they must keep smiling. A moody boy is tolerated. A moody girl—never.

Hungary Wants Nation For the Hungarians

IF there is one thing the Hungarians wish in the current European crisis it is to be left absolutely alone. Hungarians are inordinately proud of their nation, of their age-old heritage. They are getting along better today than most of the Danubian states and they brook no interference.

That interference, of course, has already come from the Nazis with the result that Hungary has suppressed the organ of the Nazi party. Hungary, moreover, has launched a nationwide patriotic movement whose slogan is "Hungary for the Hungarians." The country has gone even so far as to issue a special set of postage stamps "selling" this idea to the nation and to the world.

The program may not be so easily carried out, however. With the shifting of many boundaries in Europe in recent months, Hungary has become once more a frontier nation.

Even should the Reich make no territorial demands on Hungary, the little nation might conceivably suffer from economic "occupation." Already there is a growing fear in this direction. Hungarians do not want to make bread for the German armies. Meanwhile, there is nothing to do but intensify Hungary's nationalism, preaching it in schools, churches and on every hand. The Hungarian cathedral of Kosice is shown above on one stamp of the "Hungary for Hungarians" patriotic set of five values.

Economics Clubs Of Houstonia Met

The Home Economics Extension club, of Houstonia, met Tuesday in an all day session at the home of Mrs. Harry Yeager. Each guest contributed to a bountiful dinner. Roll call was answered by giving the characteristic they considered the most essential in a charming personality. Mrs. F. W. Hueben and Mrs. . D. Eckles gave a demonstration on the project for the month, new ideas about every day meals. A program on yard improvement was sponsored by Mrs. T. D. Homan and Mrs. Nathan Harris.

The May meeting will be with Mrs. Ray Tagtmeyer.

Sees Production Now As Need

CLEVELAND, April 15.—(AP)—Economist Leonard Porter Ayres declared today "each month that passes without the initiation of a vigorous increase in new corporate financing decreases the probability that this recovery will become self-sustaining."

In his monthly business review, the Cleveland Trust Co., vice president said corporation executives already "are discussing the possible desirability of postponing new financing until next year when international tensions abroad may be less menacing, and political prospects at home have became easier to interpret."

He held that industrial and commercial profits in the last two quarters "were encouraging" when "the moderate volume of activity is taken into consideration."

"Our greatest need now," Col. Ayres said, "is more production, and especially more of the sort of production that goes into new plants, more modern equipment, expansions, additions, improvements and betterments.

"Such undertakings are financed by the sale of corporate securities, and such sales are made when executives have confidence in the prospects for profits, and when investors share that confidence."

The steel industry's record of freedom from accidents is exceeded only by the tobacco, laundry, cement, rubber and textile industries.

It Happened In America

By L. O. HONIG

"Private Joe" Fifer, who enlisted with Federal army in Civil War, as a barefoot boy, returned from the battlefields and began a colorful career in the service of Illinois which led to the Governor's chair from 1889 to 1893. He died August 6, 1938, within a few weeks of his 98th birthday. Fifer loved Abraham Lincoln, whose life was the pattern for his own. He once said, "There is no new thing to be said of Lincoln. There is no new thing to be said of the mountains, or of the sea, or of the stars. The years go their way, but the same old mountains lift their gigantic shoulders above the drifting clouds,—the same mysterious sea beats upon the shore, and the same silent stars keep holy vigil above a tried world. But to the mountains and the sea and stars men turn in unwearied homage. And thus with Lincoln. For he was mountain in grandeur of soul,—he was sea in deep undervoice of lonliness,—he was star in steadfast purity or purpose and of service. And he abides."

The southeast corner of the State of Utah, the southwest corner of Colorado, the northeast corner of Arizona, and the northwest corner of New Mexico, are the only sections of the United States put to one common usage. Each of these states at point described are occupied by Indian reservations. In Utah will be found the Navajo reservation, in Colorado, the Southern Ute reservation, in Arizona, the San Juan reservation, and in New Mexico, the Navajo reservation.

Williamsburg, the Capital of Virginia until 1779, a city unique in America, for the past ten years has been undergoing restoration to its 18th century appearance,—an undertaking of John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Prior to 1925 it had become a sleepy village practically unknown expect for the College of William and Mary, the oldest educational institution in America. Today, while a long way from completion, Williamsburg is a thrilling recreation of the past that belongs to all America.

The Stock Exchange of New York City was formed in 1789 by 12 merchants in a meeting under a button-wood tree at 68 Wall street.

An example of the charmed life of General Israel Putnam, is the incident arising out of his capture while on an excursion from Lake George with Major Rogers to intercept attacks on British convoys. While at the head of soldiers proceeding single file through a thicket, they were attacked by Indians headed by the French partisan Molang. As Putnam's gun missed fire he was attacked and captured by a large well proportioned warrior who tied him to a tree. After the battle he was carried back to camp, where besides many other outrages, a deep wound with a tomahawk was inflicted on his left cheek. He was about to be burned at the stake when Malong rushed forward and scattered the burning brands and unbound him. Taken before Marquis de Montcalm, the French General, for examination, he was then conducted to Montreal, where. in an exchange of prisoners he was released.

SINCE THE KruGon CAN DO HIS FARM WORK WITH EASE

Mr. Gunder Declares He would Not Be Without KruGon If It Cost Five Dollars Per Box; "It Was my Lucky Day When I Began The Use of KruGon"

Food, after it is swallowed, remains in the stomach for variable periods depending upon the quantity eaten, the general condition of the stomach and the health of the individual. For an ordinary meal the time of discharge begins in fifteen minutes and continues for three hours. If this length of time is exceeded something is wrong with the stomach. If a person is upset by certain emotions such as hatred, fear, anger, greed or jealousy the food is not properly digested and prepared for the bowel. When this upset occurs and elimination of the food from the system is interferred with, KruGon will prove a wonderful advantage.

For example, read what Mr. J. E. Gunder, a well known highly respected farmer who resides on Route No. 1, Green Ridge, Missouri (near Sedalia), said recently in a statement reaching the McFarland and Robinson Drug Company, 104 West Main St., this city:

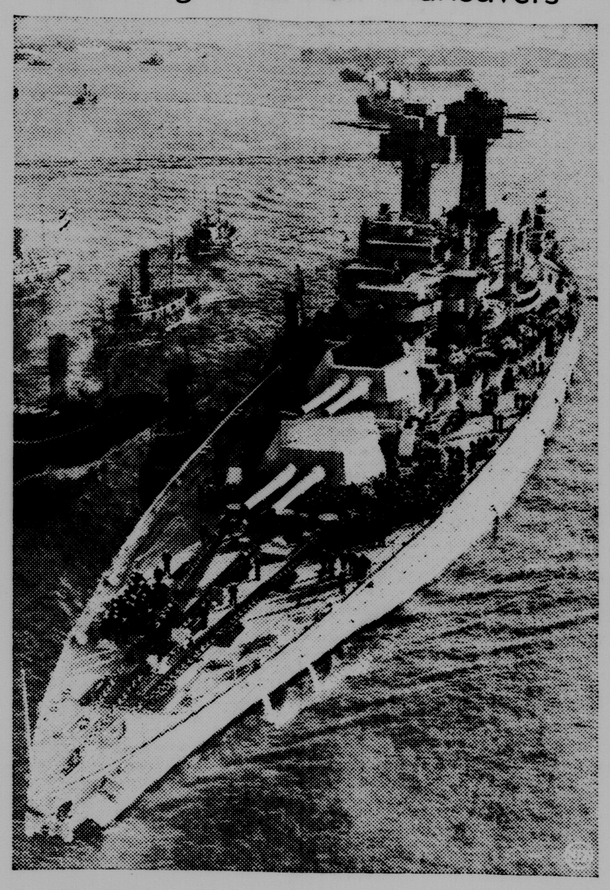

"I would not be without KruGon if it cost $5.00 per box," said Mr. Gunder. "For fifteen years I had been troubled with constipation. Poisons settled in my joints and together with terrific muscular pains I was miserable continually. Then too, my stomach simply failed to digest my food properly. After every meal gas would form in great abundance and I would belch up a hot, soured liquid from one meal to the next. I suffered constantly and did not even get relief at night but rolled and tossed unable to get sufficient rest and sleep. I had tried many remedies seeking relief but nothing that I tried had the ability to reach my case."

"But KruGon was different," continued Mr. Gunder, "for it really did the work that I had not even anticipated. All the aches and pains in my body are now relieved and I am able to get about and do my work on the afrm with ease. I do not suffer distress after by meals but my foods digest as they should. My bowels are functioning normally and with proper elimination I rest and sleep well at night, new strength and energy has been given me and I am feeling almost like a different man since the restoration of my good health . . . thanks to KruGon."

KruGon is told by the McFarland and Robinson Drug Company, 104 W. Main St., this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns.

She Never Heard of Mr. Roosevelt

She is 16—but never heard of Franklin D. Roosevelt—she knows what Thanksgiving is but not Easter—the names Hitler and Mussolini mean nothing to her—she had never heard a radio. She is Alma Mardis, who came to Memphis, Tenn., from her Mississippi farm home, was cared for by juvenile authorities.

Wheat Declines In Light Trading

IN LIGHT TRADING C ahed

CHICAGO, April 15.—(AP)—Wheat fell as much as ⅞ cent in light trade today with closing prices near the session's low level.

Contributing to the downturn were reports of widespread rains and favorable growing weather in the domestic winter wheat belt. A somewhat calmer outlook toward European events and substantial estimated stocks of wheat in Canada. President Roosevelt's plea to Hitler and Mussolini for peace attracted attention, but apparently had little market influence. A stronger securities market was an additional bearish factor on the grain. There were no overnight developments to include buying and opening prices were down despite fractional higher than due Liverpool quotations.

Wheat here closed ½ to ⅞ cent lower, May 68⅝c to 68¾c, July 67⅝c to 67¾c; corn ⅜ to ¾ cent down, May 47⅞c, July 49½c to 49⅜c; oats ⅛ to ¼ cent off, May 29⅝c; soy beans unchanged to 1⅛ cent off, May 87⅜c; rye ½ to ⅝ cent off, May 41⅝c; lard unchanged to 2 cents lower.

Liverpool wheat closed ⅛ to ¼ cent higher; rotterdam ¼ cent off to ⅜ cent up. Winnipeg closed ⅝ to ⅞ cent down, Kansas City ⅜ to ⅝ cent off, and Minneapolis ⅝ to ¾ cent down.

Sustained firmness in the cash market here held corn futures about steady during much of the session, but the grain finally succumbed to weakness in wheat. Support by cash interests was nowhere as brisk as in the previous session.

Trade in oats was slow, with commission houses and cash interests giving some buying support. Rye trade also was light and the market followed wheat. Lard sustained slight losses, most of which were recovered at the close.

Financial Markets Up

Peace Proposal Of President Causes Stock Upturn

NEW YORK, April 15.—(AP)—Washington tossed a surprise peace proposal in the lae of growling Europe today and financial markets responded with one of the best rallies since the post-Munich advance.

Stocks shot up 1 to around 4 points and bonds exhibited strength in virtually all departments following announcement President Roosevelt had dispatched pleas to Hitler and Mussolini for a cessation of war threats and invasion at least 10 years.

Rumors the President had messaged the Dictators helped give the share list a quiet lift at the opening. Confirmation came with the text of the notes mid-way of the brief session and trading came virtually to a standstill while boardroom customers crowded around the news tickers.

That the new move of the Administration was generally viewed as constructive was reflected in a subsequent pickup in buying demand and a further advance in quotations. There was no great rush to the purchasing ranks, however. Most felt that a peace conference was in the making and that the offer of the President to act as on intermediary provided highly optimistic potentialities.

A. P. Average Up

Some profit taking appeared just before the close and prices slipped a shade under the best. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks, however, retained a net advance of 1.4 points at 44.7. It was the best upturn since October 5. On the week, the composite was ahead 3.1 points, the largest recovery since the week ended October 1.

Despite exceptionally slow intervals, transfers totalled 660,200 shares. The average suffered a loss of 1.8 points.

Prominent on the upswing were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Westinghouse, Du Pont, General Electric, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, American Telephone, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Texas Corp., Consolidated Edison, Anaconda and American Smelting.

Grain Futures Lower

Lessening of war tension tripped grain futures lower. Wheat at Chicago was off ½ to ⅞ cent a bushel and corn down ⅜ to ¾. Cotton was unchanged to up 10 cents a bale. Sterling and the French franc continued extremely narrow in terms of the dollar.

The Market got a tip from Amsterdam, only important European market open today, when securities in that center pushed up before the opening here.

Stocks put on a brisk climb Monday which was attributed partly to the belief of many the list had been oversold in the preceding week. Gold continued to flow to America in huge quantities as frightened capital sought refuge from a possible war outbreak. Nervousness over the foreign affairs returned Tuesday and there was a slight dip. The advance was resumed Wednesday and Thursday, with a moderate setback appearing Friday.

Should hibernating animals go to sleep in an unprotected place, their body temperatures would sink so low that they would die. Therefore, they creep into a sheltered spot, and sink into a state of comparative cold-bloodedness.

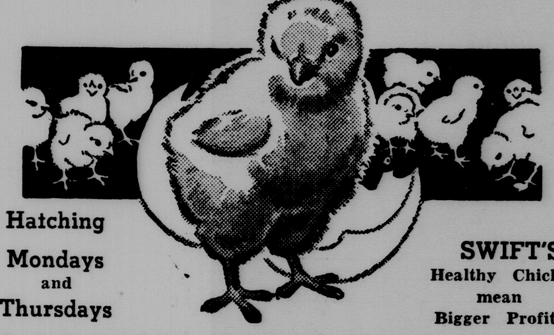

Although lightning seldom strikes balloons, three entries in the 1923 Gordon Bennett balloon race were struck, and fell to the earth in flames.

November is one of the best months for observing meteors, since, each year, during this month, we pass through several swarms of these particles.

The Farmer's Proudest Boast—
"I OWN A FARMALL"

It's no wonder that McCormick-Deering Farmall Tractor owners are proud to say: "I own a Farmall." Farmall ownership means smooth, low-cost power, outstanding performance, and dependability on every job you turn over to these sturdy, all-purpose tractors. In addition, there is Farmall's unequaled record for long life, high resale value, and complete nation-wide service. Ask us for a Farmall demonstration. We suggest that you see how the Farmall performs on a plowing job, for instance, like the F-14 shown above.

BRINGING BACK PROSPERITY IN A TEST TUBE

SCIENCE has gone to work for the farmer. The result is an amazing new development which is making rubber and roads out of cotton, glass and wool out of milk, automobiles out of soybeans and motor fuel from corn and vegetables to mention only a few fantastic products. It bids fair to revolutionize American agriculture.
